City Water Fund Shortage Revealed

Audit Shows Losses Now At $17,000

State Auditor Says Checkup To Take Another 30 Days

Discovery of a shortage of approximately $17,000 in funds of the East Liverpool water department was announced today at Columbus by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

The discovery was made during the course of a routine examination of departmental books by State Examiners Robert Lippincott, Charles J. Ramsey and James Pelley, Rhodes said. The audit has been under way since July.

The thorough examination of departmental records and books is continuing, the state auditor said.

The examiners have reported that a collector had been withholding stubs and collections in order to cover shortages in previous collection periods, Rhodes said.

The examiners say the total shortage has not been ascertained yet and it may exceed the $17,000 estimated, Rhodes said.

The present phase of the examination of East Liverpool books and records will be completed in about 30 days, Rhodes said.

"The examination of the water department, in view of the discovery by our examiners, will be made the subject of a special report," Rhodes said. "This will expedite action with respect to the shortage."

As state auditor, Rhodes is head of the State Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices, the division in which the state examiners work.

Rhodes declined to name any names in connection with the alleged shortage, emphasizing the audit is continuing and the official report will not be ready for some time.

Separate from the city administration since 1952, the water department is administered by a three-man Board of Public Utilities.

The unsalaried board was established nine years ago to take the operation of the water department out of the hands of city administrations. East Liverpool is one of the few cities in Ohio that administers its water department in this manner. Prior to 1952, the department was administered by the safety-service director.

Effective last Nov. 1, administration of the sewage treatment system also was transferred to the board.

First public mention of the alleged water department shortage was made at the new City Council's meeting on Jan. 8 by Frank Duffy, who was assuming a seat as a member-at-large.

He queried President Robert Owen about alleged reports of a shortage. Owen replied at that time that others in the City Hall had heard similar rumors. He pointed out that the city must await the examiners' official report for full information, explaining the audit still was under way.

Coal Pipeline Hearing Set For Tonight

CHARLESTON (AP) — Arguments will reach their highest pitch tonight on the issue of whether West Virginia's economy would soar or sink if the proposed coal pipeline to the East Coast is built.

Friends and foes of the project will take turns arguing their cases from the rostrum of the House of Delegates chamber, starting at 7 p. m.

The public hearing on the railroad-opposed pipeline bills pending in the Legislature will be conducted jointly by the Senate and House Judiciary committees, headed by Sen. Arch W. Riley, D-Ohio, and Del. H. Laban White Jr., D-Harrison. Only committee members will be permitted to question witnesses.

Gov. Barron and his administration are pushing the bills to start clearing the way for construction of a pipeline to transport coal from northern West Virginia to the Eastern Seaboard.

The finely - ground coal would move through the line in a mixture with water, called slurry.

If Dictatorship Results

Sanctions Eyed By U.S. Against Dominican Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reported planning political sanctions and probably an economic crackdown against the Dominican Republic if the new government there proves to be a military dictatorship.

Officials said the Kennedy administration, with a policy of promoting democracy throughout Latin America, is determined to oppose a revival of strongman rule at Santo Domingo.

The major step under consideration is denial of recognition to the junta formed Tuesday upon the ouster of President Joaquin Balaguer.

State Department officials said the seven-man junta appeared to be completely under the power of an air force general, Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, 37.

Other steps may include economic sanctions, among them denial to the Dominican Republic of U.S. sugar purchases in the first six months of this year amounting to $45 million.

Officials reported Wednesday night that the United States already has postponed steps toward restoration of normal trade with the Dominican Republic and has stalled policy decisions on a new U.S. aid program which had been designed to bolster progress toward democratic rule.

Suspended action in these fields of aid and trade could readily be hardened into more permanent anti-Echavarria policies if, in the U.S. government's view, the fears of a developing military dictatorship are borne out.

Washington officials obviously hope, however, that the unusually speedy reaction from here, embodied in a strong statement of disapproval issued by the State Department Wednesday, would result in changes in the political situation at Santo Domingo.

The United States restored full diplomatic relations with the Caribbean island nation only 12 days ago. U.S. aid experts were dispatched to survey the possibilities of assistance and development of an aid program was undertaken.

The Kennedy administration, as one official put it, was anxious to demonstrate its support for democratic elements in the country. It is now no less anxious to demonstrate, this official said, its determined opposition to a revival of military rule.

Woman Hurt When Train Strikes Auto

Husband Shaken, Uninjured In Rail Crossing Accident

A 28-year-old East Liverpool woman, mother of an 11-week-old baby, suffered multiple injuries when thrown from her husband's car as it was struck by an eastbound freight at 6:26 this morning on the Walnut St. railroad crossing.

Mrs. Joan Allen, wife of Joseph Daniel Allen, 21, of 211 Walnut St., is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with multiple contusions of the left leg, numerous lacerations of the face and a foreign body lodged in her left leg.

Her husband said he was shaken up but unhurt in the crash, which witnesses said "tore apart" the couple's 1956 two-door hardtop.

The crash occurred about 35 minutes before the crossing watchman was scheduled to begin work.

Allen and his wife were en route to work at the American Paper Products Co. plant in Boardman. A few moments earlier, they had turned over the infant daughter, Annette, to a relative who acts as baby sitter.

Police said J. R. Cook was the engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. freight and Coit McConehey was the conductor.

Cook told police the freight was moving 15 to 20 miles an hour, but he was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision. When he first saw the car it was "crossways on the tracks," he related.

Allen told police he and his wife were headed for work "and there was no lights or nothing" at the crossing. He said he halted his car briefly, then started across the tracks when the auto was hit by the engine.

"All I remember is a noise and the next thing I knew I was rolling down the tracks," Mrs. Allen told officers. "Joe had slowed down and then started across the tracks when I heard the noise."

The crossing watchman was listed as a witness, although he was not on duty at the time. He explained to police his shift starts at 7.

The watchman, Jacob B. Freed of Beaver Falls, told police "the train was blowing its whistle and the bell at the Broadway crossing (to the west) was ringing when the car came to the crossing."

Freed said the car did not stop. He added that the driver "tried

Tight Curbs Are Clamped In Dominican

Sweeping Decrees Designed To Stifle Junta's Opposition

By The Associated Press

The Dominican Republic's new junta clamped tight restrictions on the country today with a series of sweeping decrees designed to stifle opposition to the apparent takeover by the military. But unrest seethed in Santo Domingo.

Huberto Bogaert, a civilian official of the Trujillo era, was named to head the junta of four civilians and three military men that deposed the 16-day-old all-civilian council of state Tuesday night.

But authoritative reports filtering through the strict Dominican censorship said the real strongman is the armed forces chief, Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria.

In Washington, State Department officials said the junta appeared to be completely under the power of Rodriguez Echavarria, 37. They said the Kennedy administration is determined to oppose revival of strongman rule in Santo Domingo and is planning strong measures should the new government prove to be a military dictatorship.

The junta decreed a modified form of martial law, suspending civil guarantees, and imposed a dusk to dawn curfew.

Heavily armed troops patrolled the capital streets. But tanks and more troops had to be called out Wednesday to break up a student demonstration protesting the swift government change the night before.

Highlandtown Area House Razed By Fire

Fire destroyed a small three-room home on Leatherberry Rd., about six miles from Highlandtown, Wednesday afternoon at 4:10.

The home of Bert Baker burned to the ground and nothing was saved, according to the Highlandtown volunteer fire department.

Baker, who lived alone, told firemen the blaze started in an opposite corner away from the chimney. He attempted to extinguish the blaze before the firemen arrived.

Firemen said the entire structure was in flames when they arrived. Fifteen men responded to the call. Blaine Culp, assistant chief, was in charge.

Baker stayed with neighbors last night.

PRESIDENT CALLS FOR $92.5 BILLION

Budget Sets Record For Peacetime

$52 Billion Asked For Defense; Small Surplus Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in the first federal budget of his own making, called today for record peacetime spending of $92.5 billion and a wobbly surplus of $463 million—a margin possible only if revenues rocket and the price of mailing a letter is increased.

The 1,500-page spending blueprint, which covers the 1963 fiscal year starting July 1, foresees a spending rise of nearly $3.5 billion over the current level. More than 75 per cent of the increase would involve military and space programs.

Kennedy told Congress he expects outlays to total slightly more than $92.5 billion — an amount exceeded only twice before, during World War II. Revenues were estimated at $93 billion, an unprecedented level $11 billion higher than this year's income.

Highlighting the 7,400-word budget message which Kennedy sent to Capitol Hill were these recommendations:

A defense program of $52.7 billion, up nearly $1.5 billion.

Allocation of $2.4 billion for space research, an increase of $1.3 billion.

A foreign aid program boosted by $200 million to $3.9 billion. But along with that spending figure, which includes $2.5 billion in economic aid and $1.4 billion military aid, Kennedy asked nearly $5 billion of new funds. The new money would include $3.39 billion for various economic aid programs and $1.5 billion for military aid.

Repeal of the 10 per cent tax on rail, bus and boat fares, with later adjustments in aviation taxes.

Enactment of a new farm bill designed to cut farm program spending from $6.3 billion to $5.8 billion.

Increase the "temporary" $298 billion national debt limit to a new high of $308 billion.

Increase postal rates by about $600 million a year.

The new budget assumes that the Berlin crisis will cool off enough to permit the return home by June 30 of military reservists mobilized last fall. Any heightening of cold war tensions could prompt new hikes in defense spending and wipe out the indicated surplus.

Kennedy also based his projections on an assumption that the economy will continue to expand briskly into 1963, though perhaps at a lesser rate as time passes. The President said major economic records will be broken month after month while the unemployment rate will drop from 6.1 per cent to 4 per cent by mid-1963.

Cold Only Moderate But Snow's Now Due

The Ohio weatherman missed on his prediction for sub-zero cold but nobody was complaining.

The city got a chilly 13 degrees this morning and Edwin Copeland at Millport registered 4 above. An unofficial reading in Glenmoor was 10 above. A low of 5 below to 5 above had been forecast for last night.

Snow now apparently will be the next phase of winter with an intermittent light fall forecast for tonight or Friday. It will continue moderately cold with a high range of 14 to 19 today and an overnight low of 12 to 17.

Raises Given 4 Workers In Midland Unit

Water Department And Sewage Plant's Budgets Approved

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening adopted 1962 water department and sewage treatment plant budgets and made adjustments on the salaries of four employes.

Raises were given Mrs. Dorothy Kukich cashier, and Dick McHaffie, accountant, both in the water department, and Daniel Orlando and Sam Jarovich, operators at the sewage plant.

The authority voted a salary of $350 a month for Mrs. Kukich, who was named head cashier, and $550 for McHaffie, who was named head accountant.

Because work has doubled for both water department employes since the authority took over the sewage treatment plant, Mrs. Kukich was given a $25 increase and McHaffie, $50.

The increases are retroactive to Nov. 1, when billing of sewage rates began. Both also will receive $17.50 raises retroactive to Oct. 1 since hourly union employes were given a 10-cent hike back to that date when their contract expired.

The salaries of Orlando and Jarovich were increased by $50 each to $450 a month. Rudolph Presutti made the motions for the adjustments.

The water department budget lists estimated revenue of $205,000, operating expenses of $153,000 and an operating income of $52,000 and non-operating income of $1,500, totaling $53,500. The proposed capital expenditures stand at $53,250, leaving a surplus of $250 in the budget.

Proposed capital projects include laboratory improvement, $5,000; increase of high-service pumping capacity, $25,000; office furniture, $500; billing equipment, $5,000; plans to increase plant capacity, $11,250; replace sand in two filters, $2,500; fire hydrant relocation, $2,500, and small tools, $1,500.

To West New Guinea

U.N. Observers Asked By Dutch

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) The Netherlands government today asked Acting Secretary-General U Thant to send U. N. observers to West New Guinea.

The request was announced at The Hague as Thant pushed a peacemaking effort to bring the Dutch and Indonesians together for negotiations.

Thant asked Indonesian President Sukarno and Dutch Premier Jan De Quay to hold off any action as a result of Monday's naval clash off the West New Guinea coast and to accept his services as a go-between.

The Dutch message to Thant asked him to send "one or more observers or one or more personal representatives" to West New Guinea.

"I earnestly appeal to your excellency and your government," Thant's cables said, "to refrain from any precipitate action following the clash of naval vessels which took place on 14 January. (The attack actually occurred on Jan. 15). I would also request that your permanent representative in New York be instructed to discuss with me the possibilities of a peaceful settlement of the whole question in conformity with the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations."

Later Thant talked with Dutch Ambassador C. W. A. Schurmann and Indonesian Ambassador Sukardjo Wirjopranoto. Informants said he notified them formally of his cables to their governments.

Sukardjo told newsmen that Indonesia was "flexible." He added, however, that his government favors negotiations only if the Dutch government commits itself in advance to transfer administrative control of the disputed territory to Indonesia.

Biggest 'Space Week' Looms

U.S. To Try Moon Shot For Close-Up Pictures

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States will try next week to send a Ranger 3 spacecraft on a 66-hour trip to the moon to take closeup pictures and land an instrument package to record moonquakes.

The launching, set for Monday, may kick off this nation's greatest week in the space age. The attempt to launch Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit about the earth is scheduled for Wednesday, and on Wednesday or Thursday the Navy will try to boost aloft five satellites with a single rocket.

The Glenn and quintuple satellite firings have not been announced officially. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration released details today on the Ranger moon shot.

Monday is the first day of a five-day period in which the moon —about 235,000 miles away—is in a favorable position for the launching. If the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket is not fired in this time, the shot will be postponed until the next optimum period, which occurs every 28 days.

Commenting on the odds for success, NASA said "the assignment is so complex" that it has "assigned three identical spacecraft to the task in the hope that one of the three will be successful." Rangers 4 and 5 are slated for launching later this year.

Rangers 1 and 2 were fired last fall to test techniques for the moon landing vehicles. Neither was aimed at the moon and each was only partially successful.

The 727-pound Ranger 3 is the first of a long series of vehicles the space agency plans to send towards the moon in the next few years.

Hearing Due Man Accused In Blackmail

Wellsville Resident Arrested On Charge Preferred By Chief

A 36-year-old Wellsville man was scheduled for a hearing this afternoon at 1:30 before County Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon on a charge of blackmail.

John D. Carter, 529 Buckeye Ave., was accused in a charge filed by Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville.

Carter, who is on probation from Jefferson County on a theft charge of last summer, also has a Cleveland address.

Carter is accused of attempting to blackmail a Wellsville businessman and also Chief Hephner.

Hephner said he has been working on the case since Dec. 11. Carter was taken into custody Tuesday for questioning and charges were filed Wednesday.

Carter has admitted his implication in the case, Hephner said. He was arrested last July for stealing sewer pipe from the Peerless Clay Co. at Empire. At the time, he was driving a truck hauling the stolen pipe.

He was halted by Chief Hephner on the super-road below Wellsville after being notified by Jefferson County authorities. He was placed on probation by the Jefferson County Common Pleas Court.

Hephner said Carter was attempting to obtain money by blackmail to pay for his court costs. He said he admitted threatening others verbally, stating he would "implicate them in

To West New Guinea

U.N. Observers Asked By Dutch

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) The Netherlands government today asked Acting Secretary-General U Thant to send U. N. observers to West New Guinea.

The request was announced at The Hague as Thant pushed a peacemaking effort to bring the Dutch and Indonesians together for negotiations.

Thant asked Indonesian President Sukarno and Dutch Premier Jan De Quay to hold off any action as a result of Monday's naval clash off the West New Guinea coast and to accept his services as a go-between.

The Dutch message to Thant asked him to send "one or more observers or one or more personal representatives" to West New Guinea.

"I earnestly appeal to your excellency and your government," Thant's cables said, "to refrain from any precipitate action following the clash of naval vessels which took place on 14 January. (The attack actually occurred on Jan. 15). I would also request that your permanent representative in New York be instructed to discuss with me the possibilities of a peaceful settlement of the whole question in conformity with the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations."

Later Thant talked with Dutch Ambassador C. W. A. Schurmann and Indonesian Ambassador Sukardjo Wirjopranoto. Informants said he notified them formally of his cables to their governments.

Sukardjo told newsmen that Indonesia was "flexible." He added, however, that his government favors negotiations only if the Dutch government commits itself in advance to transfer administrative control of the disputed territory to Indonesia.

Biggest 'Space Week' Looms

U.S. To Try Moon Shot For Close-Up Pictures

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States will try next week to send a Ranger 3 spacecraft on a 66-hour trip to the moon to take closeup pictures and land an instrument package to record moonquakes.

The launching, set for Monday, may kick off this nation's greatest week in the space age. The attempt to launch Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit about the earth is scheduled for Wednesday, and on Wednesday or Thursday the Navy will try to boost aloft five satellites with a single rocket.

The Glenn and quintuple satellite firings have not been announced officially. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration released details today on the Ranger moon shot.

Monday is the first day of a five-day period in which the moon —about 235,000 miles away—is in a favorable position for the launching. If the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket is not fired in this time, the shot will be postponed until the next optimum period, which occurs every 28 days.

Commenting on the odds for success, NASA said "the assignment is so complex" that it has "assigned three identical spacecraft to the task in the hope that one of the three will be successful." Rangers 4 and 5 are slated for launching later this year.

Rangers 1 and 2 were fired last fall to test techniques for the moon landing vehicles. Neither was aimed at the moon and each was only partially successful.

The 727-pound Ranger 3 is the first of a long series of vehicles the space agency plans to send towards the moon in the next few years.

Hearing Due Man Accused In Blackmail

Wellsville Resident Arrested On Charge Preferred By Chief

A 36-year-old Wellsville man was scheduled for a hearing this afternoon at 1:30 before County Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon on a charge of blackmail.

John D. Carter, 529 Buckeye Ave., was accused in a charge filed by Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville.

Carter, who is on probation from Jefferson County on a theft charge of last summer, also has a Cleveland address.

Carter is accused of attempting to blackmail a Wellsville businessman and also Chief Hephner.

Hephner said he has been working on the case since Dec. 11. Carter was taken into custody Tuesday for questioning and charges were filed Wednesday.

Carter has admitted his implication in the case, Hephner said. He was arrested last July for stealing sewer pipe from the Peerless Clay Co. at Empire. At the time, he was driving a truck hauling the stolen pipe.

He was halted by Chief Hephner on the super-road below Wellsville after being notified by Jefferson County authorities. He was placed on probation by the Jefferson County Common Pleas Court.

Hephner said Carter was attempting to obtain money by blackmail to pay for his court costs. He said he admitted threatening others verbally, stating he would "implicate them in clude revenue of $212,000, expenses of $158,200 and total income of $55,600.

The budget for the sewage plant has an estimated income of $68,190, expenses of $64,800, including $4,400 for administration, $21,400 for operation and maintenance and $39,000 for debt service retirement, totaling $64,800. The income exceeds the expenses by $4,110.

Both budgets were drawn up by Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, and recommended by Granville Kester, the firm's engineer hired by the authority.

Presutti moved for the adoption of the water department budget and Leslie B. Roach for the other.

Atty. Robert Masters, authority solicitor, reported he will prepare the union agreement, covering the recent 10-cent hourly wage increase, for the signature of Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, so the contract can be forwarded to the utility local's representative.

A proposal for boiler and pump insurance at the water department, from Basinger & Gifford Insurance Agency, was read and the authority will ask a representative to attend a meeting and explain the policy.

A letter from George Cindrich Jr. of the General Contracting Co. informed the authority that the company has a septic tank not connected to the borough's sanitary system. Atty Masters will notify it that it will not be billed for sewage.

Donald Craik, manager of the water department and sewage treatment plant, gave a report of December when 2.5 million gallons of water were pumped daily. He said the booster station at Penn Ave. and 3rd St. has been cleaned and painted and the No. 6 filter bed at the water plant has been cleaned and is ready for new sand and gravel. It is the second filter rebuilt in the past year.

He also made recommendations for the sewage treatment plant.

Kester reported his firm will have an automation report ready for the authority in a week. Bills in the amount of $18,214.98 were ordered paid. All members but Larry Cuccaro, who is reported ill, were present.

Subway 'Dream' Train Results In Near Nightmare

NEW YORK (AP)—The subway "dream" train—red carpet, draperies, flowers, and all—almost turned out to be a nightmare.

In a publicity stunt by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, three "dream" cars were hooked into a regular six-car subway train Wednesday on a round trip between Times Square and South Ferry.

But there were too many invited guests and the select passengers ended up in sardine fashion just like the usual rush-hour.

If you could raise your elbow to drink, there was champagne passed around by beautiful maidens, and a bar car to boot—if you could get near it.

The idea was to emphasize that people ought to keep the subway cars as clean as their living rooms.

Ordinary citizens, riding the six regular cars, did not seem impressed. Observed one: "Give me service, don't give me flowers and champagne."

Meanwhile, two one-car hit-skip crashes were reported to police.

Betty Wells, 229 W. 8th St., told police Tuesday her car was hit while parked Monday night or early Tuesday on W. 8th St. about 100 feet east of Dresden Ave.

Electricians Get 5-Hour Day And Boost In Wages

NEW YORK (AP)—Union electricians have won a five-hour work day and a pay raise from 125 of the 600 electrical contractors they struck against a week ago.

There was no immediate indication of what effect the partial settlement would have on the decision of the city's building contractors to shut 80 per cent of the $1-billion annual industry because of the strike.

The shutdown—announced Monday by the Building Trades Employers Association which represents 1,000 contractors—technically went into effect at the end of work Wednesday.

The stoppage threatens temporary layoffs of at least 100,000 men in various construction crafts.

Three other employer associations, representing 475 electrical contractors, recessed negotiations with the striking Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers after their new offer of a 10 per cent wage increase with no cut in hours was rejected.

Snowstorm Hits Plains; East Shivers

By The Associated Press

A snowstorm spread across areas in the central Plains and a mid-January cold wave enveloped most of the eastern half of the nation today.

The new storm dumped snow across sections of eastern Colorado, most of Kansas, southeast Nebraska and northern and western Missouri. Heavy snow warnings, with amounts up to four inches or more, were issued for areas from southwest Kansas through central and northeast Kansas into northwest Missouri.

Light snow fell in parts of the Rockies and Great Lakes region and northwest Oregon.

Although temperatures moderated slightly in parts of the north central region, subzero weather persisted in the northern and north central Plains, the upper and northern Mississippi Valley and in sections of the Northeast. The coldest day of the season was forecast for New England.

In Minnesota, which reported a reading of 40 below zero Wednesday in Bemidji, there wasn't much warming. Minneapolis reported a low of 24 below.

clude revenue of $212,000, expenses of $158,200 and total income of $55,600.

The budget for the sewage plant has an estimated income of $68,190, expenses of $64,800, including $4,400 for administration, $21,400 for operation and maintenance and $39,000 for debt service retirement, totaling $64,800. The income exceeds the expenses by $4,110.

Both budgets were drawn up by Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, and recommended by Granville Kester, the firm's engineer hired by the authority.

Presutti moved for the adoption of the water department budget and Leslie B. Roach for the other.

Atty. Robert Masters, authority solicitor, reported he will prepare the union agreement, covering the recent 10-cent hourly wage increase, for the signature of Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, so the contract can be forwarded to the utility local's representative.

A proposal for boiler and pump insurance at the water department, from Basinger & Gifford Insurance Agency, was read and the authority will ask a representative to attend a meeting and explain the policy.

A letter from George Cindrich Jr. of the General Contracting Co. informed the authority that the company has a septic tank not connected to the borough's sanitary system. Atty Masters will notify it that it will not be billed for sewage.

Donald Craik, manager of the water department and sewage treatment plant, gave a report of December when 2.5 million gallons of water were pumped daily. He said the booster station at Penn Ave. and 3rd St. has been cleaned and painted and the No. 6 filter bed at the water plant has been cleaned and is ready for new sand and gravel. It is the second filter rebuilt in the past year.

He also made recommendations for the sewage treatment plant.

Kester reported his firm will have an automation report ready for the authority in a week. Bills in the amount of $18,214.98 were ordered paid. All members but Larry Cuccaro, who is reported ill, were present.

Subway 'Dream' Train Results In Near Nightmare

NEW YORK (AP)—The subway "dream" train—red carpet, draperies, flowers, and all—almost turned out to be a nightmare.

In a publicity stunt by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, three "dream" cars were hooked into a regular six-car subway train Wednesday on a round trip between Times Square and South Ferry.

But there were too many invited guests and the select passengers ended up in sardine fashion just like the usual rush-hour.

If you could raise your elbow to drink, there was champagne passed around by beautiful maidens, and a bar car to boot—if you could get near it.

The idea was to emphasize that people ought to keep the subway cars as clean as their living rooms.

Ordinary citizens, riding the six regular cars, did not seem impressed. Observed one: "Give me service, don't give me flowers and champagne."

Bill Asks Truck Tax For Use Of Highways

Revenue from the tax would go into the State Road Fund. The bill included a tax scale ranging from ½ cent a mile for a commercial car with two or more axles up to 2½ cents for a commercial tractor authorized to operate as part of a tandem with four or more axles.

to beat the train and got hit." He timed the crash at 6:23.

Allen told friends that his wife was thrown clear of the car, but he was not.

Meanwhile, two one-car hit-skip crashes were reported to police.

Carl J. Horner of Dakota Ave. told police his 1952 two-door sedan was struck by another vehicle while parked on Lisbon St. near Croft St. between 1:30 and 2 p. m. Tuesday. He made the report Wednesday.

Betty Wells, 229 W. 8th St., told police Tuesday her car was hit while parked Monday night or early Tuesday on W. 8th St. about 100 feet east of Dresden Ave.

Electricians Get 5-Hour Day And Boost In Wages

NEW YORK (AP)—Union electricians have won a five-hour work day and a pay raise from 125 of the 600 electrical contractors they struck against a week ago.

There was no immediate indication of what effect the partial settlement would have on the decision of the city's building contractors to shut 80 per cent of the $1-billion annual industry because of the strike.

The shutdown—announced Monday by the Building Trades Employers Association which represents 1,000 contractors—technically went into effect at the end of work Wednesday.

The stoppage threatens temporary layoffs of at least 100,000 men in various construction crafts.

Three other employer associations, representing 475 electrical contractors, recessed negotiations with the striking Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers after their new offer of a 10 per cent wage increase with no cut in hours was rejected.

Eighteen plastic bombs went off in Paris and its suburbs during the night after the French Cabinet met to deal with the violent outbreaks sweeping Algeria and France.

Bid Accepted On Fire Truck

A new budget of $31,844 was read and a bid for a new fire truck was accepted at a special meeting of Industry Borough Council Wednesday evening.

The budget was read by Councilman Homer Paul, finance chairman, and is based on the same taxes as last year. They are 10 mills real estate and $3 per capita. Last year's budget was $37,044.88.

The budget may be examined by residents at the home of Mrs. John Parsons, secretary, at 1217 Ohio View Dr. Councilmen decided to continue serving without pay.

Council awarded a contract to the American LaFrance Fire Equipment Co. on a bid of $15,797 for a new pumper type truck. It will be delivered in May or June.

A snowstorm spread across areas in the central Plains and a mid-January cold wave enveloped most of the eastern half of the nation today.

The new storm dumped snow across sections of eastern Colorado, most of Kansas, southeast Nebraska and northern and western Missouri. Heavy snow warnings, with amounts up to four inches or more, were issued for areas from southwest Kansas through central and northeast Kansas into northwest Missouri.

Light snow fell in parts of the Rockies and Great Lakes region and northwest Oregon.

Put Communism On Defensive

Periodically the non-Communist world discovers that fellows like Nikita Khrushchev and even the late Holy Joe Stalin must get into their pants one leg at a time, like the Free World leaders they heckle.

The time has come for another discovery.

Depending on where you look and how much you believe, Russian Communists and the Chinese Communists are having a more serious falling out than usual.

Or Italian Communists, Albanian Communists, Yugoslav Communists, or some other branch of the Communist Conspiracy is getting ready to "disaffiliate," as John L. Lewis used to say when he was walking out on the union labor movement because he could do better on his own.

There are times when the so-called "conspiracy" seems to be as tottery as the so-called Western Alliance, which these days has trouble getting together long enough to disagree.

But any resemblance to the differences of opinion that keep the Western Alliance and the Free World is superficial.

ALL SHADES of opinion among Communists in countries that have been taken over by Red politicos, as well as all shades of opinion wherever Red politicos are waiting in the wings for a hoped-for collapse, are strung together on a main wire—common belief in the Marxist class struggle.

And that main wire is held in place by poverty and hopelessness in countries that never permitted free enterprise, though calling themselves "capitalist."

This gives the Communists something to rant against. It lines them up against a common opponent, whereas capitalist countries are held together by no common belief.

The United States is the only country that ever encouraged free enterprise, and now it is being hamstrung by the same government leeches and pap-sucking socializers that won't give free enterprise a chance elsewhere.

The Free World's divergent parts are as far apart as the limited despotism of state-capitalist France and the far-right extremists of the United States presently demanding this country's withdrawal from all contact with such things.

They are as far apart as Ghana and Britain, or South Africa and the Congo.

IT IS ALWAYS exciting to discover a new that the Communist world fights and bickers. It is even encouraging. The Reds talk a bigger deal than they can swing while fighting among themselves.

But it proves nothing except that human nature is the same regardless of ideological labels. It doesn't prove that sweetness and light are about to be diffused over us, like the rosy glow of a summer dawn.

There can be no sweetness and light while there are rancor and bitterness exploited by Communists trained in the black art of blackmailing capitalism for its failure to eliminate poverty and hopelessness.

Communism can do no better, but communism isn't on the defensive.

The problem of the 20th century is how to put Communists on the defensive too, the one thing that would take all the steam out of their conspiracy.

Only Opposition Was Disappointed

Not since Archie Moore cancelled a boxing match in Toronto a few weeks ago for want of an audience has there been deeper disappointment over a fight that didn't happen than Goodwin J. Knight's exit from the 1962 contest for governor of California. But only the opposition is disappointed. Everybody else is glad the fight didn't happen.

This leaves Richard M. Nixon with what amounts to a clean sweep in the Republican primary and a chance to sail into Gov. Pat Brown next fall with all guns blazing. California Democrats had hoped Mr. Nixon and former Gov. Knight would cut up each other in the primary so severely Gov. Brown would take on a winner weak from loss of blood.

Whether the former governor has stepped out of the primary contest because he has been ordered to do so by a physican, which is likely, or whether he had to find a physician who would order him to stay on the sidelines because in his physcial condition he shouldn't be in such a contest is indeterminate, It doesn't matter, because it should work out for the best this way.

Mr. Knight at the age of 65 had nothing to gain by butting heads with former Vice President Nixon, who is still one of the Republican party's young hopefuls. Mr. Knight would have cracked his skull, which is no way to end a political career.

California Republicans had everything to lose by letting their party's two foremost contenders for the governorship nomination butt heads in a personal feud at the expense of party strength. The primary has its proper uses and its improper uses, and one of the latter is to settle feuds between individuals at the expense of the party.

May former Gov. Goodwin Knight get over quickly and completely what ails him and cast his vote next November for the candidate of his choice, which will not be Gov. Pat Brown.

Strong, Silent Voice

Bob Kennedy Asks New Racket Laws

By Victor Riesel

I have been crisscrossing the East these past few weeks by car over the Pennsylvania highways, by rail into frozen Ohio and by plane into other states.

Victor Riesel

Everywhere I have run into federal agents searching out hoods who have captured a local union or two, and organized terrorists and multi - million - dollar shakedown artists. There are probes of mobs which have been linked to $5-million - dollar - a - month pinball and slot machine operations in a single working class area, as well as gangs who have run stolen guns to Cuba.

In the national capitol, the count in this past year comes to some 95 indictments and convictions. But only a few are "major" criminals on the list of 700 mobster chiefs Attorney Gen. Robert Kennedy keeps under surveillance. There would be more convictions, such as there have been in the international $150 - million - dollar narcotics ring, or that of a tough named Nick Stirone, who shamed a Pittsburgh construction union he led until he was jailed.

But the attorney general needs new laws.

THESE BOB KENNEDY discussed with his brother the President who then wrote the requests into his State of the Union speech.

Among the proposed laws the Brothers Kennedy have in mind, it can be reported, are new ways to protect government witnesses, restricted wire tapping powers, revision of a law which could cripple mulcting by rainbow colored pinwheel whirling, bell ringing slot and pinball machines, in addition to the granting of immunity to special witnesses.

When the Department of Justice was about to win this last proposal from Congress, all House members received a memo from the AFL-CIO legislative people urging a vote against immunity. It was defeated.

Robert Kennedy is much interested in the protection of witnesses. He recalls that during the Senate hearings on racket invasion of labor there were those who developed bad cases of lockjaw after they were contacted by his probers.

Right now, no prospective witness in a federal investigation can be protected by the FBI until he or she is subpoenaed.

Thus, when an agent of Justice Department attorney merely seeks out potential witnesses to determine what they know, the neighborhood mob gets wind of the probe.

FREQUENTLY the hoods move in right after the investigating agent has moved on to report to his superiors.

A few soft words or a hard slap in the teeth and the witness clammed up. Robert Kennedy now seeks a law which would permit federal protection of those with valuable evidence before a subpoena is issued.

If warranted, this protection should be possible, Kennedy feels, as soon as a federal agency or grand jury shows interest in questioning or summoning someone. In cracking the industrial rackets as well as the billion dollar organized criminal syndicate, this would be worth a division of shock troops.

Sometimes there is no real substitute for wire tapping in breaking these mobs, the attorney general believes. He will ask for such power for use under federal court order. But only in efforts to crack major crimes such as subversion, treason, narcotics, murder.

As for the pinball machine racket, the "AG" has found it particularly noisome in the big industrial belts. In one Indiana city he learned of mobs making more than $10 million in two months around the big steel mills. His agents have run into a regional district attorney who bought a $50,000 home recently. The DA earns some $8,000 a year. But he paid for the mansion with $50,000 worth of hundred dollar bills.

ALL THIS corruption corrodes some of the local gendarmerie. They should be protecting the working guy. They should not be easing the way for his being robbed by the new generation of machines which descended from the "one-armed bandits." No one really knows how many such gambling devices there are illegally set up outside private clubs.

Roughly the Justice Department knows of some 60,000. There may be four or five times that number.

To hit at their operators, who are tied in with mobs reaching into virtually every other racket, Bob Kennedy wants laws banning pinball machine inter - state transportation into areas where they are illegal.

These are big time pros whom Bob Kennedy and the Justice Department are fighting. You can't beat them with a legislative water pistol. Congress should take a few moments soon and pass him the ammunition.

And No Tailgate

By Truman Twill

We could hardly wait when the dog show came to town to see how far off the beam we had been when people asked us about our new dog.

We'd had no illusions about her. She is a hybrid. Her mother was one of those solid German Rottweilers — huge dogs that range between 90 and 150 pounds.

Her father was a Collie. The mating was not accidental. It was planned, like letting the daughter marry the boy from the other side of the tracks because it made sense, even if it created certain social problems.

But, when people saw our pup, or inquired about her, thy wanted to know the breed. She looks like a Rottweiler, then again she doesn't. What she resembles most is a black half-ton truck with an ivory grille on the front and no tail gate behind.

Because it's bad manners to discuss such things in the hearing of an impressionable child nothing was said about that Collie. It was easier to mention in passing that her mother was a Rottweiler reputed to weigh upward of 150 pounds, like commenting that a child's mother once had been a runner-up in the Miss America contest.

We were snobs, that's what we were. We left her father out of it because he obviously was not the major element in the match.

So when the dog show materialized, the project was to see how far off the beam we were when we called the pup a Rottweiler.

It all depends on how you look at her. From the rear she is a Rottweiler. From the side, she is a Rottweiler. From the top and bottom she checks out Rottweiler, point by point. But from the front she is too good looking to be a Rottweiler. She inherited color on her cheeks that doesn't belong on the cheeks of a Rottweiler.

Her hair is a little too curly for a Rottweiler, though that could be from growing up outside in a brisk winter.

So from this point on we're going to borrow an idea from England, where they put names together to show how things got crossed up. We're going to say she is a Rottwollie — and when we say it we're going to look dignified as if we were saying the child's name was Cholmondeley Armstrong - Jones, related of course to THE Armstrong-Jonses.

It won't matter in the long run, because it will be the way it was when our oldest dog was growing up. People looked at her and asked, "What kind of a dog is that, if I may inquire?" "You certainly may," we'd reply. "We're glad you did. She is a cross between a Springer Spaniel and an unknown father, but she turned out to look something like a Cocker Spaniel, except she has a long tail. Any more questions?"

If all turns out well, everybody will be wanting a Rottwollie, either that or a pickup truck with an ivory grille on front and no tailgate behind.

Tax Fixing Barriers

By David Lawrence

Presidential Proposal Seen Unsatisfactory

With all the advisers, experts, economists and politicians, as well as veteran officials supposed to be familiar with tax problems available around the White House, it is surprising to find President Kennedy quite casually recommending that Congress give up its constitutional power to fix tax rates and let the chief executive do it.

David Lawrence

Before any proposal as far-reaching as this could find its way into the State of the Union Message of the President, it would seem that such a drastic change in tax policies and procedures would be thought through and given to the public only after a most thorough study of all its ramifications.

The idea seems to be to toss into the hopper as many ideas as possible to give the impression that the administration isn't standing still. The comment heard from administration circles is: "At least, we're moving." Nobody, unfortunately, can foretell in what direction the movement is headed.

To permit a President overnight to reduce or raise taxes would be something of an innovation to Americans, though the idea of a flexible tax was proposed long ago by Lord Keynes, the British economist whose theories since have been severely criticized.

In Britain sudden tax changes can be made by the government in power, but this is because they have the parliamentary system.

The people, however, can immediately throw out the cabinet ministry that taxed them unwisely. No such remedy is today available to the American people.

Apart from the wisdom or unwisdom of sudden tax changes from a political viewpoint — for certainly there would be little protest when taxes went down and a big howl if they went up—there are some practical barriers.

Supposedly the tax changes are to be made when business conditions would seem to the theorists to require such a shift. Where is the expert to be found who is wise enough, upon waking up some morning, to decide that taxes should be reduced to stimulate consumer spending or raised to stop inflation as he rushes to the White House to persuade the president to sign the appropriate executive order?

NOBODY seems to have thought about the problem of how to change suddenly all the tax forms and how to provide a procedure for taxpayers to revise in the middle of a tax year the estimates they have already submitted and on which they may have made payments. The mere task of checking returns in a year when an abrupt change in tax rates has taken place would be a colossal job.

Even though the administrative difficulties could be surmounted by paying out a few millions of dollars for extra clerks and revised forms, the remedy could prove worse than the disease. There is no certainty, for instance, that a sudden stimulus to consumer spending would come at the right time. Who knows when a recession has run its course or when one is about to begin? The formula could easily result in amounts of change in tax receipts that would be either too small or too large to fit the conditions prevailing.

Congress would be in a hot spot no matter what happened. First, there is the criticism that Congress would be surrendering its constitutional powers. It has been argued that Congress could always nullify a tax change it didn't like because it would have 30 or 60 days in which one House could exercise a veto of the President's action.

This might occur just before an election and the uncertainty produced between the time the President made his proposal and the time it was rejected or took effect could bring on such chaotic conditions as to defeat the ends sought.

IT WOULDN'T cause so much of a fuss if taxes were always being reduced, as everybody likes a tax reduction. But if the president asked for a change in the basic rate, what about the clamor of the people in the other tax brackets for additional reductions? And what would happen if a president asked for a rise in taxes, specially in an election year?

The experts might argue that theoretically all this would improve economic conditions but the average voter would certainly take it out on his congressman if it turned out that the recession was actually deepened.

A quick tax cut could result in a bigger deficit than expected. Also, there are some paradoxes to complicate the whole problem.

Today, for xample, the country is supposed to be in the midst of a business boom but the budget is unbalanced and unemployment is 6.1 per cent of the labor force. Should taxes be cut, raised or left unchanged?

It certainly is strange that the President should have fallen for this weird gimmick of the theorists without telling the American people at least the exact circumstances under which he would use the power to reduce or raise taxes if such authority were given him.

That's why half-baked proposals and recommendations that are not thought through can hardly be considered to be characteristics of a sound administration charged with the task of coping with the challenges of economic change which constantly face the world today.

Victor Riesel

Everywhere I have run into federal agents searching out hoods who have captured a local union or two, and organized terrorists and multi - million - dollar shakedown artists. There are probes of mobs which have been linked to $5-million - dollar - a - month pinball and slot machine operations in a single working class area, as well as gangs who have run stolen guns to Cuba.

In the national capitol, the count in this past year comes to some 95 indictments and convictions. But only a few are "major" criminals on the list of 700 mobster chiefs Attorney Gen. Robert Kennedy keeps under surveillance. There would be more convictions, such as there have been in the international $150 - million - dollar narcotics ring, or that of a tough named Nick Stirone, who shamed a Pittsburgh construction union he led until he was jailed.

But the attorney general needs new laws.

THESE BOB KENNEDY discussed with his brother the President who then wrote the requests into his State of the Union speech.

Among the proposed laws the Brothers Kennedy have in mind, it can be reported, are new ways to protect government witnesses, restricted wire tapping powers, revision of a law which could cripple mulcting by rainbow colored pinwheel whirling, bell ringing slot and pinball machines, in addition to the granting of immunity to special witnesses.

When the Department of Justice was about to win this last proposal from Congress, all House members received a memo from the AFL-CIO legislative people urging a vote against immunity. It was defeated.

Robert Kennedy is much interested in the protection of witnesses. He recalls that during the Senate hearings on racket invasion of labor there were those who developed bad cases of lockjaw after they were contacted by his probers.

Right now, no prospective witness in a federal investigation can be protected by the FBI until he or she is subpoenaed.

Thus, when an agent of Justice Department attorney merely seeks out potential witnesses to determine what they know, the neighborhood mob gets wind of the probe.

FREQUENTLY the hoods move in right after the investigating agent has moved on to report to his superiors.

A few soft words or a hard slap in the teeth and the witness clammed up. Robert Kennedy now seeks a law which would permit federal protection of those with valuable evidence before a subpoena is issued.

If warranted, this protection should be possible, Kennedy feels, as soon as a federal agency or grand jury shows interest in questioning or summoning someone. In cracking the industrial rackets as well as the billion dollar organized criminal syndicate, this would be worth a division of shock troops.

Sometimes there is no real substitute for wire tapping in breaking these mobs, the attorney general believes. He will ask for such power for use under federal court order. But only in efforts to crack major crimes such as subversion, treason, narcotics, murder.

As for the pinball machine racket, the "AG" has found it particularly noisome in the big industrial belts. In one Indiana city he learned of mobs making more than $10 million in two months around the big steel mills. His agents have run into a regional district attorney who bought a $50,000 home recently. The DA earns some $8,000 a year. But he paid for the mansion with $50,000 worth of hundred dollar bills.

ALL THIS corruption corrodes some of the local gendarmerie. They should be protecting the working guy. They should not be easing the way for his being robbed by the new generation of machines which descended from the "one-armed bandits." No one really knows how many such gambling devices there are illegally set up outside private clubs.

Roughly the Justice Department knows of some 60,000. There may be four or five times that number.

To hit at their operators, who are tied in with mobs reaching into virtually every other racket, Bob Kennedy wants laws banning pinball machine inter - state transportation into areas where they are illegal.

These are big time pros whom Bob Kennedy and the Justice Department are fighting. You can't beat them with a legislative water pistol. Congress should take a few moments soon and pass him the ammunition.

And No Tailgate

By Truman Twill

We could hardly wait when the dog show came to town to see how far off the beam we had been when people asked us about our new dog.

We'd had no illusions about her. She is a hybrid. Her mother was one of those solid German Rottweilers — huge dogs that range between 90 and 150 pounds.

Her father was a Collie. The mating was not accidental. It was planned, like letting the daughter marry the boy from the other side of the tracks because it made sense, even if it created certain social problems.

But, when people saw our pup, or inquired about her, thy wanted to know the breed. She looks like a Rottweiler, then again she doesn't. What she resembles most is a black half-ton truck with an ivory grille on the front and no tail gate behind.

Because it's bad manners to discuss such things in the hearing of an impressionable child nothing was said about that Collie. It was easier to mention in passing that her mother was a Rottweiler reputed to weigh upward of 150 pounds, like commenting that a child's mother once had been a runner-up in the Miss America contest.

We were snobs, that's what we were. We left her father out of it because he obviously was not the major element in the match.

So when the dog show materialized, the project was to see how far off the beam we were when we called the pup a Rottweiler.

It all depends on how you look at her. From the rear she is a Rottweiler. From the side, she is a Rottweiler. From the top and bottom she checks out Rottweiler, point by point. But from the front she is too good looking to be a Rottweiler. She inherited color on her cheeks that doesn't belong on the cheeks of a Rottweiler.

Her hair is a little too curly for a Rottweiler, though that could be from growing up outside in a brisk winter.

So from this point on we're going to borrow an idea from England, where they put names together to show how things got crossed up. We're going to say she is a Rottwollie — and when we say it we're going to look dignified as if we were saying the child's name was Cholmondeley Armstrong - Jones, related of course to THE Armstrong-Jonses.

It won't matter in the long run, because it will be the way it was when our oldest dog was growing up. People looked at her and asked, "What kind of a dog is that, if I may inquire?" "You certainly may," we'd reply. "We're glad you did. She is a cross between a Springer Spaniel and an unknown father, but she turned out to look something like a Cocker Spaniel, except she has a long tail. Any more questions?"

If all turns out well, everybody will be wanting a Rottwollie, either that or a pickup truck with an ivory grille on front and no tailgate behind.

Tax Fixing Barriers

By David Lawrence

Presidential Proposal Seen Unsatisfactory

With all the advisers, experts, economists and politicians, as well as veteran officials supposed to be familiar with tax problems available around the White House, it is surprising to find President Kennedy quite casually recommending that Congress give up its constitutional power to fix tax rates and let the chief executive do it.

David Lawrence

Before any proposal as far-reaching as this could find its way into the State of the Union Message of the President, it would seem that such a drastic change in tax policies and procedures would be thought through and given to the public only after a most thorough study of all its ramifications.

The idea seems to be to toss into the hopper as many ideas as possible to give the impression that the administration isn't standing still. The comment heard from administration circles is: "At least, we're moving." Nobody, unfortunately, can foretell in what direction the movement is headed.

To permit a President overnight to reduce or raise taxes would be something of an innovation to Americans, though the idea of a flexible tax was proposed long ago by Lord Keynes, the British economist whose theories since have been severely criticized.

In Britain sudden tax changes can be made by the government in power, but this is because they have the parliamentary system.

The people, however, can immediately throw out the cabinet ministry that taxed them unwisely. No such remedy is today available to the American people.

Apart from the wisdom or unwisdom of sudden tax changes from a political viewpoint — for certainly there would be little protest when taxes went down and a big howl if they went up—there are some practical barriers.

Supposedly the tax changes are to be made when business conditions would seem to the theorists to require such a shift. Where is the expert to be found who is wise enough, upon waking up some morning, to decide that taxes should be reduced to stimulate consumer spending or raised to stop inflation as he rushes to the White House to persuade the president to sign the appropriate executive order?

NOBODY seems to have thought about the problem of how to change suddenly all the tax forms and how to provide a procedure for taxpayers to revise in the middle of a tax year the estimates they have already submitted and on which they may have made payments. The mere task of checking returns in a year when an abrupt change in tax rates has taken place would be a colossal job.

Even though the administrative difficulties could be surmounted by paying out a few millions of dollars for extra clerks and revised forms, the remedy could prove worse than the disease. There is no certainty, for instance, that a sudden stimulus to consumer spending would come at the right time. Who knows when a recession has run its course or when one is about to begin? The formula could easily result in amounts of change in tax receipts that would be either too small or too large to fit the conditions prevailing.

Congress would be in a hot spot no matter what happened. First, there is the criticism that Congress would be surrendering its constitutional powers. It has been argued that Congress could always nullify a tax change it didn't like because it would have 30 or 60 days in which one House could exercise a veto of the President's action.

This might occur just before an election and the uncertainty produced between the time the President made his proposal and the time it was rejected or took effect could bring on such chaotic conditions as to defeat the ends sought.

IT WOULDN'T cause so much of a fuss if taxes were always being reduced, as everybody likes a tax reduction. But if the president asked for a change in the basic rate, what about the clamor of the people in the other tax brackets for additional reductions? And what would happen if a president asked for a rise in taxes, specially in an election year?

The experts might argue that theoretically all this would improve economic conditions but the average voter would certainly take it out on his congressman if it turned out that the recession was actually deepened.

A quick tax cut could result in a bigger deficit than expected. Also, there are some paradoxes to complicate the whole problem.

Today, for xample, the country is supposed to be in the midst of a business boom but the budget is unbalanced and unemployment is 6.1 per cent of the labor force. Should taxes be cut, raised or left unchanged?

It certainly is strange that the President should have fallen for this weird gimmick of the theorists without telling the American people at least the exact circumstances under which he would use the power to reduce or raise taxes if such authority were given him.

That's why half-baked proposals and recommendations that are not thought through can hardly be considered to be characteristics of a sound administration charged with the task of coping with the challenges of economic change which constantly face the world today.

Cleveland Firm Faces Court On Cigarette Count

CLEVELAND (AP) — A representative of Revco Discount Drug Centers appears today in common pleas court on a charge that the firm sold a carton of cigarettes for $2.20—17 cents under a minimum price set by state law.

Cutrate prices on cigarettes at Revco's 25 stores in greater Cleveland last week brought complaints from other merchants. A state tax investigator visited a Revco store in suburban Lakewood Friday, and he said he bought a carton of cigarettes below the minimum price.

The charge against Revco was based on that purchase.

Convicted under the law could mean a fine of $500.

Actions have been filed by Revco attorneys seeking to have the law declared unconstitutional and to enjoin the state tax commission from revoking a cigarette license for violation of the law.

Supreme Court Ruling Favors Theater Figure

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Five cases against a suburban Oakwood theater manager are being thrown out because of the Ohio Supreme Court ruling Wednesday that the statute he was prosecuted under is unconstitutional.

Oakwood Prosecutor Francis McDaniel said charges will be dropped against Edward Eads, manager of the Far Hills Theater. The Supreme Court's decision Wednesday that it is not a crime to show obscene films without knowledge they are obscene reversed conviction of Allan S. Warth, manager of the Art Theater in Dayton.

Eads was convicted in Oakwood Municipal Court for showing the movies, "Sins of Youth" and "The Immoral Mr. Teas."

Hephner said the letter sent to the businessman was unsigned. After receiving it, the man turned it over to Chief Hephner.

Hephner learned of other threats and started checking them out. Later, Carter went to Hephner and threatened to send a letter to the Jefferson County prosecutor, saying he lied on the witness stand. He said "this would make Hephner look bad."

The chief said Carter had not yet sent the letter when he came to him Carter gave the letter to Hephner, who in turn took it personally to the prosecutor.

The chief said the prosecutor turned the letter back to him. A check of the handwriting showed Carter was the one who had sent the letter to the businessman. The name to the businessman was not listed in the charges. It probably will be made known later.

Carter's main object was to obtain the money to pay the court costs from the July case. He did not ask for any definite amount, the chief said.

Carter is being held in County Jail at Lisbon.

Hephner said this is the first blackmail case he ever worked on.

Here Are Highlights Of Budget Message

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Highlights of President Kennedy's budget message for fiscal 1963, the year beginning next July 1:

BUDGET SURPLUS — Spending will total $92.5 billion, up $3.4 billion over the record level in the current fiscal year. Revenues are estimated at $93 billion, an increase of $10.9 billion over present levels. This results in an estimated surplus of about $500 million.

SPENDING SHIFT — Reductions in spending for farm programs, the postal deficit and temporary extended unemployment compensation permits increases for education, health, housing and natural resource development "without raising significantly total expenditures for domestic civil functions."

DEFENSE SPENDING — Defense budget is up $1.5 billion over the current fiscal year to $52.7 billion.

SHELTER PROGRAM — The defense budget contains $700 million for a shelter program designed to make space available for 50-million persons. This includes $460 for a cost-sharing program with state and local governments.

MILITARY ASSISTANCE—"Military assistance expenditures are declining to an estimated $1.4 billion in 1963 compared with $2.2 billiion five years earlier. The more industrialized European countries have almost completely taken over the cost of their own armament."

FOREIGN AID — "Expenditures for economic and financial assistant to the developing nations of the world have been increasing and are estimated at $2.5 billion in 1963. These expenditures will rise further in later years as development loan commitments being made currently are drawn upon."

ALLIANCE FOR PROGRESS—Long-term authorization of $3 billion proposed for the Alliance for Progress during the next four years. Total support for Alliance for Progress during fiscal 1963 estimated at more than $1 billion, including Food for Peace program and loans from Export-Import Bank and InterAmerican Development Bank.

SPACE RESEARCH — An increase of $1.1 billion for space research to $2.4 billion to continue "a major stepup in the programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in such fields as communications and meteorology and in the most dramatic effort of all—mastery of space symbolized by an attempt to send a man to the moon and back safely to earth."

FARM SPENDING — Reduces the budget for farm programs from $6.3 billion in the current fiscal year to $5.8 billion in fiscal 1963 in anticipation of savings from new farm proposals "which I shall be presenting to Congress."

NATURAL RESOURCES— "Estimated expenditures of $2.3 billion in this budget for the conservation and development of our natural resources are higher than in any previous year."

COMMERCE—Spending on commerce and transportation programs was cut from $2.9 billion currently to $2.5 billion in fiscal 1963, mainly due to an expected $593 million increase in postal rates.

TAX ENFORCEMENT— "Aside from revenue gains based on economic expansion, there will be larger revenue collections as a result of strengthening the Internal Revenue Service with additional enforcement personnel. Collections are estimated to be increased $300 million during 1963 because of this effort."

DEBT LIMIT—"To make the usual allowance for a margin of flexibility I urge prompt enactment of a temporary increase of the debt limit to $308 billion, to be available for the remainder of this year and throughout fiscal 1963." The present temporary debt limit is $295 billion.

FEDERAL SALARIES—"To enable the government to obtain and keep high quality personnel" President Kennedy proposed a new salary schedule to "bring career employe salaries at all except the very top career levels into reasonable comparability with private enterprise salaries for the same level of work." He also directed a review of military pay scales to determine whether they should be adjusted.

TAX REFORM—Urged that tax reform proposals recommended last year be enacted early in this session of Congress.

TAXES—He repeated his State of the Union request for discretionary authority to reduce personal income tax rates as an anti-recession measure.

quest, which has been shelved three years running, also will have a major impact on the budget. Without higher rates (including a 5-cent letter charge) to add to the anticipated big increase in tax collections, Kennedy's envisioned surplus would evaporate—barring major economy moves in other areas.

Many congressional Republicans — and some Democrats — were ready to demand greater economy and a bigger surplus in order to whittle down the record national debt, now nudging the $298 billion ceiling.

Anticipating this, Kennedy said a $463 million surplus would reflect "the best national policy." He said deficit spending might promote inflation while a larger surplus "would risk choking off economic recovery and contributing to a premature downturn."

A surplus as small as the one forecast by Kennedy would represent a big change from the indicated budget results for the current fiscal year which ends June 30. Kennedy said the current-year outlook is for spending of $89.1 billion, revenues of $82.1 billion and a deficit of $7 billion.

Defending in advance his proposed spending increases, Kennedy said all new ideas for additional outlays were reviewed in accord with "strict standards of urgency." He said that, in the name of economy, "many desirable new projects and activities are being deferred."

Even the defense program felt the economy ax. The Pentagon was allotted $48.3 billion for military activities and, while this represented a hike of nearly $1.5 billion over current levels, it was well below the combined requests of the separate services.

Incidentally, the military budget was recast this year to lump items according to various missions rather than by separate services. Because of this "unification" move, it was impossible to extract totals for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

In adition to Pentagon spending, $2.9 billion was earmarked for the atomic energy program, $1.4 billion for arms aid and $100 million for other defense-related activities. Thus total defense outlays were budgeted at $52.7 billion, or 57 per cent of all federal spending.

The military billions will provide, among other things, for two more Army divisions (making a total of 16), a start on six more Polaris submarines, additional bombers and fighters and more missiles of all types. At the same time, the total number of men under arms would be slated to drop from 2,825,000 next June 30 to 2,684,000 a year later.

Planned space spending of $2.4 billion in fiscal 1963 would include nearly $1.2 billion for manned space flights, including "some of long duration." The amount earmarked for manned forays would be up $700 million over this year's total.

Other significant increases were indicated for interest on the national debt (up $400 million to $9.4 billion), health, labor and welfare programs (up $400 to $5.1 billion), and education activities (up $400 million to $1.5 billion). Outlays for natural resource programs would be boosted by $200 million to a record $2.3 billion.

Economies were forecast in such fields as agriculture (if the new farm bill, not yet detailed, is enacted), commerce and transportation (down $400 million to $2.5 billion) and veterans benefits (down $300 million to $5.3 billion).

Most of the legislative proposals mentioned in the budget were 1961 retreads, such as aid to education, health care for the aged and tax incentives for business expansion. However, the message did encompass what Kennedy termed "some new proposals of high priority."

In this connection, he mentioned "improvements in education and scientific research," retraining of the unemployed, a program to give young people greater job opportunities, and aid to mass transit facilities in cities. The first-year cost of the transit plan was estimated at $15 million.

Kennedy's proposal to repeal the 10 per cent federal tax on rail, bus and boat tickets also was new and will be tied in with a special transportation program to be submitted later.

The President also called for the repeal next Jan. 1 of the 10 per cent tax on air fares. However, he would largely offset the revenue loss by creating a new 5 per cent tax on air fares and freight charges plus increasing and expanding certain taxes on aviation fuels.

As in the past, the budget called for extension of present corporation and excise tax rates beyond their scheduled June 30 expiration.

Budget Director David E. Bell defended the budget Wednesday at the annual news briefing on the official spending plan. Reminded that some Democrats last year accused former President Dwight D. Eisenhower of submitting a "phony" budget which indicated a surplus that did not materialize, Bel said: "It is our judgment that this is not a phony and rigged budget but an honest and accurate budget."

Discussing the revenue forecast, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told reporters the administration expects the economic upswing to continue at least until the late summer or fall of 1963.

As has been reported earlier, Dillon said the administration will submit to Congress in late spring or summer a proposal for broad tax reform, including a review of basic tax rates. This item was not mentioned in the budget and Dillon said Congress would not be expected to act before 1963.

the theft in one manner or another."

Hephner said the letter sent to the businessman was unsigned. After receiving it, the man turned it over to Chief Hephner.

Hephner learned of other threats and started checking them out. Later, Carter went to Hephner and threatened to send a letter to the Jefferson County prosecutor, saying he lied on the witness stand. He said "this would make Hephner look bad."

The chief said Carter had not yet sent the letter when he came to him Carter gave the letter to Hephner, who in turn took it personally to the prosecutor.

The chief said the prosecutor turned the letter back to him. A check of the handwriting showed Carter was the one who had sent the letter to the businessman. The name to the businessman was not listed in the charges. It probably will be made known later.

Carter's main object was to obtain the money to pay the court costs from the July case. He did not ask for any definite amount, the chief said.

Carter is being held in County Jail at Lisbon.

Hephner said this is the first blackmail case he ever worked on.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I won't sign my name—not because I'm ashamed of having written this letter but because I hope millions of men who read it will think it came from their wives.

I'm sick of hearing about women who lost their men because they "let themselves go." The phrase invariably means "she got fat." A woman in her 40s can have a face like three yards of corduroy but if she has a 22-inch waist she is considered "youthful."

What about husbands? They eat (and guzzle) themselves into shapeless hulks. Rolls of blubber hang over their belts and the seams in their trousers scream for mercy. But still they stuff their fat faces.

When I married my husband he weighed 185 pounds (5 feet 10) and everyone said he was "movie star handsome." Today he can't weigh himself on our bathroom scale because it only goes up to 250.

His big complaint is that I must be getting old because our life isn't what it used to be. Why don't men realize that 70 pounds of fat can kill off any romance? Please speak this piece for all wives, everywhere.—ELOISE.

Dear Eloise: Seventy pounds of fat can do more than kill a romance—it can kill the guy.

The overweight person places a burden on his heart which often shortens his life. Imagine, if you can, what it would be like to carry around a 70-pound bag of cement.

Obesity produces back trouble, feet trouble, vein problems and a host of other ailments which often are blamed on something else. The man who loves his stomach more than he loves his wife and family is selfish and often has an underlying emotional problem which should be explored with a specialist.

Guest Columnist

Dear Ann: Never before have I been moved to write to an advice columnist but today's letter did it.

I refer to the sister who vehemently denied that she was pregnant and attributed her size to "a thyroid condition." A few months later the baby was born.

I don't agree with you that the woman knew of her condition and wished to surprise her family. I believe that even though the doctor may have told her repeatedly that she was pregnant she refused to accept the fact. A woman who becomes furious and "screams denials" has a psychological block.

Many women who become pregnant in their 40s are so unhappy about it that they refuse to accept the reality of the situation until the child is born. It matters not how large they become or how often the doctor repeats the diagnosis.

The sister who was "decieved" should not be angry. She should offer, instead, understanding and compassion.—AVID READER.

Ex-Councilman To Testify In Shakedown Trial

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Raymond J. Little, former city councilman, was to be returned from Ohio Penitentiary to testify against Frank Cickelli at the Trumbull County Democratic chairman's trial today.

Little is serving a 1-to-10 year term for conspiring to shake down contractors building the $4.5-million sewer project here.

Testimony Wednesday including reading of a 129-page deposition from Rocco Ferrera, president of a Livonia, Mich., construction company which bears his name. His statement corroborated earlier testimony that Cickelli demanded $35,000 to insure one of the contractors getting the sewer project job.

Ferrera said in his deposition however: "Frank Cickelli never asked me for a penny. Just political contributions."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I won't sign my name—not because I'm ashamed of having written this letter but because I hope millions of men who read it will think it came from their wives.

I'm sick of hearing about women who lost their men because they "let themselves go." The phrase invariably means "she got fat." A woman in her 40s can have a face like three yards of corduroy but if she has a 22-inch waist she is considered "youthful."

What about husbands? They eat (and guzzle) themselves into shapeless hulks. Rolls of blubber hang over their belts and the seams in their trousers scream for mercy. But still they stuff their fat faces.

When I married my husband he weighed 185 pounds (5 feet 10) and everyone said he was "movie star handsome." Today he can't weigh himself on our bathroom scale because it only goes up to 250.

His big complaint is that I must be getting old because our life isn't what it used to be. Why don't men realize that 70 pounds of fat can kill off any romance? Please speak this piece for all wives, everywhere.—ELOISE.

Dear Eloise: Seventy pounds of fat can do more than kill a romance—it can kill the guy.

The overweight person places a burden on his heart which often shortens his life. Imagine, if you can, what it would be like to carry around a 70-pound bag of cement.

Obesity produces back trouble, feet trouble, vein problems and a host of other ailments which often are blamed on something else. The man who loves his stomach more than he loves his wife and family is selfish and often has an underlying emotional problem which should be explored with a specialist.

Guest Columnist

Dear Ann: Never before have I been moved to write to an advice columnist but today's letter did it.

The bride-elect is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and is employed in the office of the J. C. Penney Co.

Her fiance also was graduated from the high school and is associated with his father in the Chamberlain Heating & Air Conditioning Co.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Carol Ann O'Harra Weds J. B. Gerster In Muncie

Miss Carol Ann O'Harra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlton O'Harra Jr. of Muncie, Ind., became the bride of Jon Bradford Gerster, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gerster of Dallas, Tex., former residents of Forsyth Pl., on Dec. 27 at 7:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Muncie.

Dr. Lewis Weber Gishler, minister, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of white poinsettia, clusters of arbor vitae and pine and seven-branch candelabra. The clusters and satin bows marked the family pews. Miss Marilyn Hays was organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory peau de soie, designed on princess lines. Re-embroidered Alencon lace outlined the portrait neckline, girdled the slim waistline then cascaded at the back into a chapel train to end in an ornate bow.

Seed pearls and iridescents jeweled her cap of Alencon lace. Her fingertip veil was of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses with holly and ivory satin ribbons in the streamers.

Miss Nancy O'Harra was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. M. F. Longnecker of Indianapolis, Mrs. Delbert Lee Michel of Iowa City, Iowa, and Miss Susie Stratton of Sullivan, Ind.

They wore identical gowns of emerald green satin, fashioned with oval, scoop necklines and three-quarter-length sleeves. The sheath skirts had matching tunic overskirts. They wore short white kid gloves and emerald green satin pumps.

The maid of honor carried a fur muff trimmed with red carnations and English ivy. Her headband was of matching white fur. The bridesmaids carried crescent bouquets of red carnations and holly tied with red satin ribbon and they wore halo headpieces of English holly.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of coffee brown Chantilly lace on princess lines over crepe de chine, with red - embroidered lace scallops edging the short, flared sleeves, neckline and hem. Her small pillbox hat was formed of feathers of iridescent sequins and veiled in brown and her accessories were gold and brown.

The sheath dress the mother of the bridegroom wore was made of green and gold brocade and featured a jacket with three-quarter-length sleeves. She wore a matching brocade small hat and purse. White orchid corsages complemented their attire.

MRS. J. B. GERSTER
Former City Man's Bride.

James R. Moore of Toledo was best man. Ushers were David Carlton O'Harra, brother of the bride, J. Ray Sutton Jr., Clyde E. Ford III of Columbia City, David S. Cooper of Birmingham, Mich., and Michael R. McDermott of Boulder, Colo.

The reception was held at the Van Orman-Roberts Hotel. A four-tier cake highlighted the buffet table. Red carnations, holly and red satin ribbons formed the decorative note for the tables, covered with skirted cloths of embroidered organdy.

Aides were Miss Sophie Maxon, Miss Kay Augburn and Miss Jackie Hay of Muncie, and Mrs. Steven Ludington Hammer of Leonia, N. J.

For her honeymoon in Chicago, the bride wore a suite of light brown wool tweed with brown accessories and white orchid corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Burris High School, was graduated in 1960 from DePauw University where she was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority and the local chapter of Psi Iota Xi Sorority. She is a teacher at Boulder.

Her husband is a 1960 graduate of Denison University at Granville and is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta Social Fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa and Sigma Delta Pi honorary fraternities. He is completing work on his master's degree in history and business at the University of Colorado.

Auto Firm's Head Cited At Struck Plant

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Sherwood H. Egbert, president of Studebaker-Packard Corp., accused by a striker of offering to fight in front of the company's plant, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge Thursday night.

The executive, 41, made no comment on his arrest, but a company spokesman denied that a challenge was issued.

Egbert was released on $50 bond with a hearing scheduled today in City Court.

The Studebaker-Packard plant has been shut down by a United Auto Workers strike since Jan. 2.

Gloyd Richards, 40, a truck driver who has been employed by the auto manufacturing firm 21 years, swore out the affidavit against Egbert, and prosecutor Patrick Brennan of St. Joseph County signed it.

Richards alleged in the affidavit that Egbert challenged him to physical violence at the picket line in front of the plant. Richards said he was not on picket duty at the time but was taking pictures. He said he had served as a picket last week.

Witnesses said about 25 pickets were walking back and forth in front of the plant's main gate when a car carrying Egbert and other executives was stopped as they tried to leave. Egbert got out of the car at that time.

C. M. MacMillan, Studebaker-Packard vice president for industrial relations, who was present, denied that Egbert challenged anybody. He said the incident was "highly exaggerated."

U.N. Declares Troop Control Up To Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations says it is up to the Congo central government to bring under control rampaging Congolese troops who massacred 18 or 19 white Roman Catholic missionaries in the North Katanga town of Kongolo.

A spokesman said the U.N. has no troops anywhere near the area being terrorized by troops who reportedly were sent there by pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga in his recent bid for power.

The U.N., said the spokesman, is relying on Premier Cyrille Adoula's government to "investigate the reports (of the massacre) and restore its authority." In New York, the U.N. said Acting Secretary-General U Thant "feels certain that responsible Congolese authorities will exert every effort to ensure that those who are guilty of such an outrage will be quickly found and severely punished."

However, the Congo government appeared incapable of establishing control in Kongolo or the rest of North Katanga. The central government also has no troops in the area. Kongolo was garrisoned by troops of Katanga President Moise Tshombe, but these withdrew when the Gizengist troops invaded from neighboring Kivu Province.

Fears rose for the safety of an estimated 20 missionaries still at their posts around Kongolo, which is the seat of the Catholic vicar apostolic in North Katanga 160 miles northwest of Albertville.

With Gizenga under virtual house arrest in Stanleyville, the troops appeared completely out of control and taking orders from no one.

Westinghouse Given Contract At Power Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. was awarded a contract today by Virginia Electric and Power Co. to build two 500,000 kilowatt turbine-generators for a new power station on the Stony River in Grant County, W. Va.

Virginia Electric will build the new station in conjunction with the nation's first commercial 500,000 volt transmission system, which will originate at the plant site.

Total cost of the power plant and transmission system is estimated at $160 million.

The turbine contract and a contract earlier this month for transmission equipment, also awarded to Westinghouse, totals about $30 million.

A. H. McDowell Jr., Vepco vice president, said the new power station, largest on the Vepco system, will consume about 2.8 million tons of coal annually.

Vepco announced earlier that it will build the nation's first 500,000 volt transmission system in a 350-mile loop from the new power station to the outskirts of Washington, D. C., area in northern Virginia, south to Richmond and back to the station by way of the Waynesboro-Staunton area.

Blue Shield And AMA

New Medical Insurance Plan For Aged Revealed

CHICAGO (AP)—A new low-cost medical and surgical insurance plan for the aged has been announced by Blue Shield, a nationwide insurance program, and the American Medical Association.

The plan, announced Wednesday, would provide benefits for all persons over 65 for as low as $3 a month. It must be approved and worked out by the 69 Blue Shield affiliates and local and county medical groups.

The AMA said it is recommending that all state medical societies cooperate fully with their local Blue Shield affiliates to put the plan into operation as soon as possible.

First reaction from a few officials of medical groups was generally in favor of the program. Most officials withheld comment pending a study of the details.

The proposal, with one agreed upon less than two weeks ago by the American Hospital Association and the Blue Cross Association, completes organized medicine's answer to President Kennedy's plan to place health care for the aged under Social Security.

The AHA and Blue Cross agreed on a private hospitalization plan for retired persons over 65—to cost $10 to $12 per person a month—under which the federal government would be asked to pay the premiums for all those unable to do so.

The principle of ability to pay, with the most assistance to the needy, is involved in both plans.

Blue Cross is a hospitalization insurance plan while Blue Shield covers specified medical services.

John W. Castellucci, executive vice president of the National Association of Blue Shield Plans, said the Blue Shield program will pay the full cost of medical-surgical services for a single person over 65 with an annual income of $2,500 or less and for a husband and wife with combined income of $4,000 or less.

He said enrollees with income above these limits could be subject to an additional charge at the discretion of the individual physician.

The cheaper monthly charge for Blue Shield is made possible, a plan spokesman said, by the willingness of physicians to lower their fees for the aged. This already is being done in several Blue Shield plans covering the aged, he said.

Castellucci said the plan would provide payments for anesthesia, radiation treatments, X-ray examinations and laboratory tests and pathology services, in addition to surgery, whether performed in a hospital or licensed nursing home.

The extent of coverage for doctors' visits in a hospital or nursing home has not been decided, Castellucci said, but the program expects to provide no fewer than 30 visits and maybe as many as 70.

Continent-Shattering Bomb Seen Possible By Scientist

WASHINGTON (AP) — The grim concept of an asteroid bomb—a continent-shattering weapon produced by diverting a tiny planet from its orbit so it would strike the earth—was introduced today by a space scientist.

Dandridge M. Cole of General Electric's missile and space vehicle department said such a cataclysmic weapon might be developed sometime after 1970.

The theory involves using a Nova-class rocket to carry a crew of men or remotely controlled devices to one of the "close-approach" asteroids whose orbits sometimes carry them between the earth and the planet Mars.

The idea would be to explode a number of hydrogen bombs on the surface of the asteroid in such a way that the tiny planet would be kicked out of its orbit and pushed toward the earth—striking with the force of several million megaton-type H-bombs.

In a report prepared for the eighth annual meeting of the American Astronautical Society, Cole said:

"This unusual weapon system shares with the biological weapons the possibility for masquerading as a natural catastrophe. The attacker could hope to escape blame and retribution from surviving retaliation forces."

Tanks Pulled From Wall By U.S., Soviet

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Army started pulling its tanks back from the Berlin wall Wednesday and during the night the Soviets removed theirs.

The breakup of the rival tank camps about a mile apart at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point was taken as a symptom of lessening tension in this divided city.

The Americans rushed up tanks to the wall last October during a dispute over Communist insistence that U.S. civilian officials show their credentials to East German guards when entering East Berlin. The Soviet Union matched the move and for more than three months the tanks and their crews were bivouacked within shooting distance of each other. No shots were ever fired, however.

The Americans said they were pulling back their armor to Templehof Airport—about a mile and a half from the Berlin wall—to improve disposition of forces in the U.S. sector.

The Soviet tanks quietly slipped out of their bivouac in the ruins of a former royal palace near the Unter den Linden during the night, reliable sources said. It was not known whether they left East Berlin entirely or merely taken up new positions farther inside the city.

In a new demonstration of allied rights to the lifeline autobahn, a company of American troops today set out over the express highway for training in West Germany.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's office announced he will visit West Berlin in the near future. He is expected to stay only one day on a trip intended to reassert West Germany's political ties with West Berlin.

Lutherans Drop Book To Further 'Understanding'

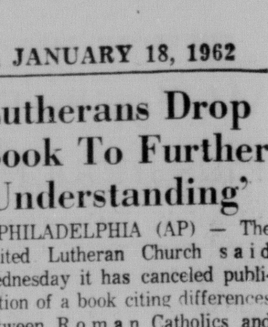

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The United Lutheran Church said Wednesday it has canceled publication of a book citing differences between Roman Catholics and Lutherans.

Cancellation of the book, in preparation since 1957, was made in the interest of fostering understanding between the two faiths, said the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Getz, a member of the Lutheran Board of Parish Education.

"At the time that the book was projected it may have been timely to stress the differences, but more recently the emphasis has been upon 'conversations' betwen the two faiths, and upon understanding each other," Dr. Getz added.

The Board of Parish Education is responsible for preparing all education material used by the 4,600 congregations of the Church. The 21-member board approved the cancellation unanimously, Dr. Getz said.

Auto Firm's Head Cited At Struck Plant

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Sherwood H. Egbert, president of Studebaker-Packard Corp., accused by a striker of offering to fight in front of the company's plant, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge Thursday night.

The executive, 41, made no comment on his arrest, but a company spokesman denied that a challenge was issued.

Egbert was released on $50 bond with a hearing scheduled today in City Court.

The Studebaker-Packard plant has been shut down by a United Auto Workers strike since Jan. 2.

Gloyd Richards, 40, a truck driver who has been employed by the auto manufacturing firm 21 years, swore out the affidavit against Egbert, and prosecutor Patrick Brennan of St. Joseph County signed it.

Richards alleged in the affidavit that Egbert challenged him to physical violence at the picket line in front of the plant. Richards said he was not on picket duty at the time but was taking pictures. He said he had served as a picket last week.

Witnesses said about 25 pickets were walking back and forth in front of the plant's main gate when a car carrying Egbert and other executives was stopped as they tried to leave. Egbert got out of the car at that time.

C. M. MacMillan, Studebaker-Packard vice president for industrial relations, who was present, denied that Egbert challenged anybody. He said the incident was "highly exaggerated."

U.N. Declares Troop Control Up To Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations says it is up to the Congo central government to bring under control rampaging Congolese troops who massacred 18 or 19 white Roman Catholic missionaries in the North Katanga town of Kongolo.

A spokesman said the U.N. has no troops anywhere near the area being terrorized by troops who reportedly were sent there by pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga in his recent bid for power.

The U.N., said the spokesman, is relying on Premier Cyrille Adoula's government to "investigate the reports (of the massacre) and restore its authority." In New York, the U.N. said Acting Secretary-General U Thant "feels certain that responsible Congolese authorities will exert every effort to ensure that those who are guilty of such an outrage will be quickly found and severely punished."

However, the Congo government appeared incapable of establishing control in Kongolo or the rest of North Katanga. The central government also has no troops in the area. Kongolo was garrisoned by troops of Katanga President Moise Tshombe, but these withdrew when the Gizengist troops invaded from neighboring Kivu Province.

Fears rose for the safety of an estimated 20 missionaries still at their posts around Kongolo, which is the seat of the Catholic vicar apostolic in North Katanga 160 miles northwest of Albertville.

With Gizenga under virtual house arrest in Stanleyville, the troops appeared completely out of control and taking orders from no one.

Westinghouse Given Contract At Power Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. was awarded a contract today by Virginia Electric and Power Co. to build two 500,000 kilowatt turbine-generators for a new power station on the Stony River in Grant County, W. Va.

Virginia Electric will build the new station in conjunction with the nation's first commercial 500,000 volt transmission system, which will originate at the plant site.

Total cost of the power plant and transmission system is estimated at $160 million.

The turbine contract and a contract earlier this month for transmission equipment, also awarded to Westinghouse, totals about $30 million.

A. H. McDowell Jr., Vepco vice president, said the new power station, largest on the Vepco system, will consume about 2.8 million tons of coal annually.

Vepco announced earlier that it will build the nation's first 500,000 volt transmission system in a 350-mile loop from the new power station to the outskirts of Washington, D. C., area in northern Virginia, south to Richmond and back to the station by way of the Waynesboro-Staunton area.

Blue Shield And AMA

New Medical Insurance Plan For Aged Revealed

CHICAGO (AP)—A new low-cost medical and surgical insurance plan for the aged has been announced by Blue Shield, a nationwide insurance program, and the American Medical Association.

The plan, announced Wednesday, would provide benefits for all persons over 65 for as low as $3 a month. It must be approved and worked out by the 69 Blue Shield affiliates and local and county medical groups.

The AMA said it is recommending that all state medical societies cooperate fully with their local Blue Shield affiliates to put the plan into operation as soon as possible.

First reaction from a few officials of medical groups was generally in favor of the program. Most officials withheld comment pending a study of the details.

The proposal, with one agreed upon less than two weeks ago by the American Hospital Association and the Blue Cross Association, completes organized medicine's answer to President Kennedy's plan to place health care for the aged under Social Security.

The AHA and Blue Cross agreed on a private hospitalization plan for retired persons over 65—to cost $10 to $12 per person a month—under which the federal government would be asked to pay the premiums for all those unable to do so.

The principle of ability to pay, with the most assistance to the needy, is involved in both plans.

Blue Cross is a hospitalization insurance plan while Blue Shield covers specified medical services.

John W. Castellucci, executive vice president of the National Association of Blue Shield Plans, said the Blue Shield program will pay the full cost of medical-surgical services for a single person over 65 with an annual income of $2,500 or less and for a husband and wife with combined income of $4,000 or less.

He said enrollees with income above these limits could be subject to an additional charge at the discretion of the individual physician.

The cheaper monthly charge for Blue Shield is made possible, a plan spokesman said, by the willingness of physicians to lower their fees for the aged. This already is being done in several Blue Shield plans covering the aged, he said.

Castellucci said the plan would provide payments for anesthesia, radiation treatments, X-ray examinations and laboratory tests and pathology services, in addition to surgery, whether performed in a hospital or licensed nursing home.

The extent of coverage for doctors' visits in a hospital or nursing home has not been decided, Castellucci said, but the program expects to provide no fewer than 30 visits and maybe as many as 70.

Continent-Shattering Bomb Seen Possible By Scientist

WASHINGTON (AP) — The grim concept of an asteroid bomb —a continent-shattering weapon produced by diverting a tiny planet from its orbit so it would strike the earth—was introduced today by a space scientist.

Dandridge M. Cole of General Electric's missile and space vehicle department said such a cataclysmic weapon might be developed sometime after 1970.

The theory involves using a Nova-class rocket to carry a crew of men or remotely controlled devices to one of the "close-approach" asteroids whose orbits sometimes carry them between the earth and the planet Mars.

The idea would be to explode a number of hydrogen bombs on the surface of the asteroid in such a way that the tiny planet would be kicked out of its orbit and pushed toward the earth—striking with the force of several million megaton-type H-bombs.

In a report prepared for the eighth annual meeting of the American Astronautical Society, Cole said:

"This unusual weapon system shares with the biological weapons the possibility for masquerading as a natural catastrophe. The attacker could hope to escape blame and retribution from surviving retaliation forces."

Tanks Pulled From Wall By U.S., Soviet

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Army started pulling its tanks back from the Berlin wall Wednesday and during the night the Soviets removed theirs.

The breakup of the rival tank camps about a mile apart at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point was taken as a symptom of lessening tension in this divided city.

The Americans rushed up tanks to the wall last October during a dispute over Communist insistence that U.S. civilian officials show their credentials to East German guards when entering East Berlin. The Soviet Union matched the move and for more than three months the tanks and their crews were bivouacked within shooting distance of each other. No shots were ever fired, however.

The Americans said they were pulling back their armor to Templehof Airport—about a mile and a half from the Berlin wall—to improve disposition of forces in the U.S. sector.

The Soviet tanks quietly slipped out of their bivouac in the ruins of a former royal palace near the Unter den Linden during the night, reliable sources said. It was not known whether they left East Berlin entirely or merely taken up new positions farther inside the city.

In a new demonstration of allied rights to the lifeline autobahn, a company of American troops today set out over the express highway for training in West Germany.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's office announced he will visit West Berlin in the near future. He is expected to stay only one day on a trip intended to reassert West Germany's political ties with West Berlin.

Lutherans Drop Book To Further 'Understanding'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The United Lutheran Church said Wednesday it has canceled publication of a book citing differences between Roman Catholics and Lutherans.

Cancellation of the book, in preparation since 1957, was made in the interest of fostering understanding between the two faiths, said the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Getz, a member of the Lutheran Board of Parish Education.

"At the time that the book was projected it may have been timely to stress the differences, but more recently the emphasis has been upon 'conversations' betwen the two faiths, and upon understanding each other," Dr. Getz added.

The Board of Parish Education is responsible for preparing all education material used by the 4,600 congregations of the Church. The 21-member board approved the cancellation unanimously, Dr. Getz said.

Weber Almost Gave Up Coaching, Now Has 10-0 Mark At Crestview

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A former New Waterford athlete, who was ready to leave the coaching ranks a year ago, is guiding the fortunes of the undefeated Crestview Rebels these days.

Bruce Weber, a 1952 graduate of New Waterford High School where he was a teammate of Wynn Hawkins, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, has watched his Crestview quint roll past 10 straight opponents.

The latest victory came last Saturday night when the Rebels knocked off previously unbeaten Mineral Ridge on the loser's own court. For that victory and nine before that, Crestview was rated the seventh spot among the top 10 Class A teams in Ohio this week.

"I was about ready to get out of coaching last season. I had been coaching football at Fairfield-Waterford when Bing Newton resigned the head basketball job," Weber said.

Since the job was offered to Weber he took it and probably isn't sorry he did.

—:—

WHAT'S Crestview's success? Weber immediately pointed to his team's "good scoring balance." It seems if one of Weber's boys is off on a given night there is always another around to have a good scoring performance.

"We also have been lucky, and as far as the remaining games they all will be shooting for us," Weber added.

Leading the Crestview five is a guy named Kress. He is 6-foot-7 Jim Kress, who is currently third among the district scoring leaders.

What makes it so pleasant having Kress around is that he is only a junior.

A SOUTHPAW, the lanky cager has fired in an even 200 points for a 20-point average in Crestview's 10 games. His high for the season has been 29 points.

"Yes, I thought Kress would come along after watching him his sophomore season," Weber pointed out. In one game as a sophomore, Kress tossed in 21 points as he broke into the varsity lineup toward the end of the 1960-61 campaign.

"I don't feel he has reached his full potential as yet," Weber said.

Crestview's other four starters can be dangerous scorers at times and form a well-balanced attack.

The starting five is composed of three seniors and two juniors. The other junior besides Kress is Lee Heaton, a 5-foot-8 cager.

—:—

THE SENIORS are Ray Brown and Earl Wolfgang, both 6-foot-1 performers, and Wayne Blosser, 6-footer who is rated a topnotch floorman and defensive standout by his coach.

Crestview lacks depth in bench strength but has Allen Cobourn, a 5-foot-11 junior, Weber's sixth man.

IN CASE you are wondering exactly where Crestview is located, the spanking new school is about one mile off Route 7 near Middleton, that is if you take a left turn going toward Youngstown.

The school, which serves the Fairfield-New Waterford District, has had three names in the last few years. The school, which originally served the area, was known as New Waterford. It later became Fairfield - Waterford and this present school year was named Crestview when the new building was erected.

The Crestview cagers also have a new and spacious gymnasium this season.

Weber is a graduate of Youngstown University where he continued his basketball prowess. While this is his first year as head basketball coach at Crestview, he coached three years in another Class A school before returning to his alma mater as head football mentor.

Crestview goes after its 11th and 12th straight over the weekend when Lowellville visits Crestview Friday and the Rebels travel to Salineville Saturday night.

The Review Sports
THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1962 PAGE 11

Duquesne, Cincy Battle Tops List

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne, a team that "didn't belong" according to the preseason experts, gets a chance to "stay" tonight when it tackles third-ranked Cincinnati in one of the week's top college basketball attractions.

Duquesne, with 12 victories and only a loss to Villanova in the Quaker City Holiday Festival last month, is ranked fifth. Cincy is 12-2, after beating Dayton Tuesday night. The Dukes won over Toledo on Monday.

The only ranked team in action Wednesday night was 10th rated Mississippi State, which beat Alabama 67-40.

In other action, North Carolina took over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 66-56 victory over North Carolina State, Virginia Tech won over Richmond 67-54 in a Southern Conference game, Louisville surprised Xavier (Ohio) 85-60, Harvard gained sole possession of fourth place in the Ivy League with a 76-72 victory over Dartmouth, Penn beat St. Joseph's 66-60 for the first time since 1946, and Army ended Williams' unbeaten string at 12 with an easy 72-58 victory.

Alabama went into a first half stall, but Mississippi State showed the Tide how it should be done and gained a 21-5 halftime lead. Both changed tactics in the second half and the Maroon ran away from 'Bama 46-35.

ELHS Travels To Steubenville Friday

Potters Find Central Five On Way To Best Mark In School's History

East Liverpool, over the nervous tension that resulted from a one-point victory over Ashland last Saturday, will invade Steubenville Friday night to meet Central squad which is on its way to the best record in the school's history.

The Crusaders have seven victories against only two defeats. The best mark in basketball history at Central is 12-6.

FRIDAY'S GAME will be played in the new Diocesan Community arena, a plant being used for the first time this season by the Crusaders. A reserve game will get under way at 7.

Coach Jim Harris plans to stick with the same five which has started all seven of the Potters' games this season — Jack Deshler, Dean Cline, Dave Harriel, Ed Prentice and Huck Steffen.

Harris did indicate that Roger Linville will be seeing more action in the future and probably will play a good bit Friday night. Linville earned his spurs by coming up with a neat relief job in the comeback victory over Ashland.

—:—

COACH Francis Sebring of Steubenville, who resigned his post before the season started but is finishing out the campaign, has Joe Drosak and Sam Fornsaglio, his two top scorers, ready for the Potters.

Sebring rates Drosak one of the top cagers in the state. The senior letterman stands 6-foot, the same height as "Slingin Sam" Fornsaglio, who was the passing specialist in football.

At center, will be 6-foot-3 Bill Barret. A pair of 5-foot-10 guards, Dan Abramowicz and Tom Chmielewski, will round out the starting five.

Sebring took the Crusaders farther than any other Central team had gone last season when the Steubenville five upset East Liverpool, then was beaten by Wellsville in the Sectional finals.

The Crusaders opened the present campaign with a six-game winning streak before losing to Steubenville Big Red, 63-55.

They came back to top Wellsville, 67-49, but lost at Wellsburg last Saturday night, 77-60.

Ford Frick Says He's Not Alarmed Over Pro Football

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick insisted today he is not alarmed over the rapid rise of professional football, but urged major league clubowners and the rules committee to do something about "pepping up the game."

"What baseball needs is few delays and home runs and more snappy plays and stolen bases," Frick said. "Not enough is being done in this respect."

His comments were prompted by the results of an Associated Press poll. In the balloting by 215 sportswriters and broadcasters, 109 voted "yes" to the question "will professional football in 10 or 20 years replace baseball as our national pastime?" there were 106 dissenters.

In addition, 25 voters insisted that pro football already has knocked baseball out of the box as America's No. 1 sport while another 15 predicted the grid game will take over in fewer than 10 years.

"I'm not alarmed that pro football is going to take baseball's place," Frick said. "We did have a slight decrease in major league attendance (5.6 per cent) last season. But don't forget that 30 million people watched professional baseball games and that the game is being played in more high schools and colleges than ever before."

Jerry West Scores 63 Points In Lakers' Win

By The Associated Press

Jerry West's sensational scoring Wednesday night, topped by only two men in the history of the National Basketball Association, stole the thunder from the usual NBA leaders, the Boston Celtics and Wilt Chamberlain.

The 6-foot-3 Los Angeles backcourt star, an NBA sophomore from West Virginia, scored 63 points in the Lakers' 129-121 victory over the New York Knickerbockers.

Only Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor, West's Los Angeles teammate now in the Army, have bettered the mark. Baylor had a high of 71, and Chamberlain, Philadelphia's giant scoring machine, has 73 in regulation time and 78 in triple overtime.

Wilma Ward Trains For Indoor Classic

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten pounds heavier and fighting a head cold, Wilma Rudolph Ward, Olympic triple gold medal winner, is training here for Saturday night's invitational indoor track meet in the Sports Arena.

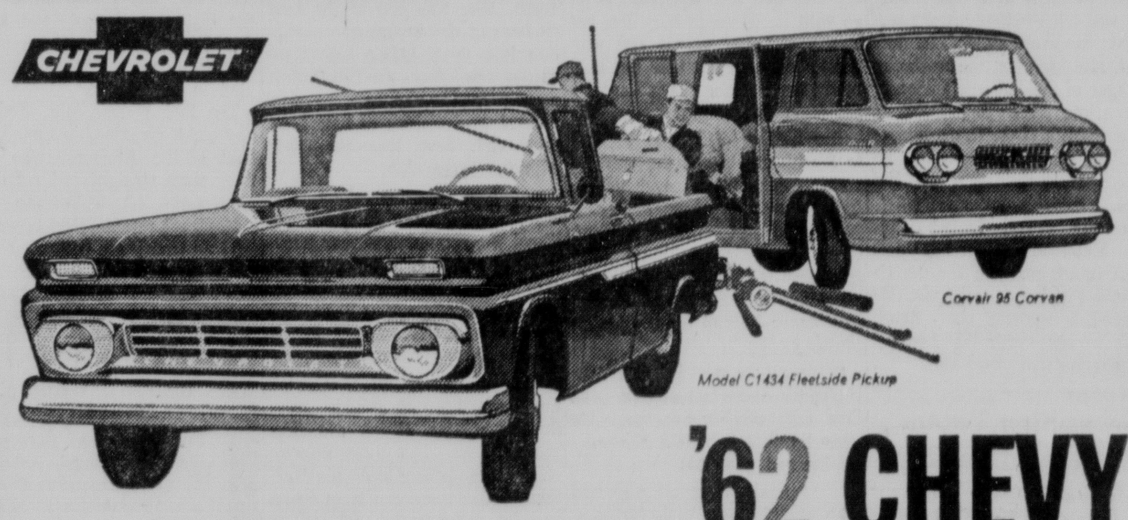

She flew in Wednesday night from her home in Nashville. Accompanying her were her Tennessee A&I teammate, Jean Holmes; Coach Ed Temple and broad jumper Ralph Boston.

Wilma and Miss Holmes are entered in the 60-yard dash.

"I plan to win," said Wilma, a recent bride. She admitted that she gained weight during the winter on the banquet circuit.

"I don't feel he has reached his full potential as yet," Weber said.

Crestview's other four starters can be dangerous scorers at times and form a well-balanced attack.

The starting five is composed of three seniors and two juniors. The other junior besides Kress is Lee Heaton, a 5-foot-8 cager.

—:—

THE SENIORS are Ray Brown and Earl Wolfgang, both 6-foot-1 performers, and Wayne Blosser, 6-footer who is rated a topnotch floorman and defensive standout by his coach.

Crestview lacks depth in bench strength but has Allen Cobourn, a 5-foot-11 junior, Weber's sixth man.

IN CASE you are wondering exactly where Crestview is located, the spanking new school is about one mile off Route 7 near Middleton, that is if you take a left turn going toward Youngstown.

The school, which serves the Fairfield-New Waterford District, has had three names in the last few years. The school, which originally served the area, was known as New Waterford. It later became Fairfield - Waterford and this present school year was named Crestview when the new building was erected.

The Crestview cagers also have a new and spacious gymnasium this season.

Weber is a graduate of Youngstown University where he continued his basketball prowess. While this is his first year as head basketball coach at Crestview, he coached three years in another Class A school before returning to his alma mater as head football mentor.

Crestview goes after its 11th and 12th straight over the weekend when Lowellville visits Crestview Friday and the Rebels travel to Salineville Saturday night.

Duquesne, Cincy Battle Tops List

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne, a team that "didn't belong" according to the preseason experts, gets a chance to "stay" tonight when it tackles third-ranked Cincinnati in one of the week's top college basketball attractions.

Duquesne, with 12 victories and only a loss to Villanova in the Quaker City Holiday Festival last month, is ranked fifth. Cincy is 12-2, after beating Dayton Tuesday night. The Dukes won over Toledo on Monday.

The only ranked team in action Wednesday night was 10th rated Mississippi State, which beat Alabama 67-40.

In other action, North Carolina took over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 66-56 victory over North Carolina State, Virginia Tech won over Richmond 67-54 in a Southern Conference game, Louisville surprised Xavier (Ohio) 85-60, Harvard gained sole possession of fourth place in the Ivy League with a 76-72 victory over Dartmouth, Penn beat St. Joseph's 66-60 for the first time since 1946, and Army ended Williams' unbeaten string at 12 with an easy 72-58 victory.

Alabama went into a first half stall, but Mississippi State showed the Tide how it should be done and gained a 21-5 halftime lead. Both changed tactics in the second half and the Maroon ran away from 'Bama 46-35.

Potters Find Central Five On Way To Best Mark In School's History

East Liverpool, over the nervous tension that resulted from a one-point victory over Ashland last Saturday, will invade Steubenville Friday night to meet Central squad which is on its way to the best record in the school's history.

The Crusaders have seven victories against only two defeats. The best mark in basketball history at Central is 12-6.

FRIDAY'S GAME will be played in the new Diocesan Community arena, a plant being used for the first time this season by the Crusaders. A reserve game will get under way at 7.

Coach Jim Harris plans to stick with the same five which has started all seven of the Potters' games this season — Jack Deshler, Dean Cline, Dave Harriel, Ed Prentice and Huck Steffen.

Harris did indicate that Roger Linville will be seeing more action in the future and probably will play a good bit Friday night. Linville earned his spurs by coming up with a neat relief job in the comeback victory over Ashland.

—:—

COACH Francis Sebring of Steubenville, who resigned his post before the season started but is finishing out the campaign, has Joe Drosak and Sam Fornsaglio, his two top scorers, ready for the Potters.

Sebring rates Drosak one of the top cagers in the state. The senior letterman stands 6-foot, the same height as "Slingin Sam" Fornsaglio, who was the passing specialist in football.

At center, will be 6-foot-3 Bill Barret. A pair of 5-foot-10 guards, Dan Abramowicz and Tom Chmielewski, will round out the starting five.

Sebring took the Crusaders farther than any other Central team had gone last season when the Steubenville five upset East Liverpool, then was beaten by Wellsville in the Sectional finals.

The Crusaders opened the present campaign with a six-game winning streak before losing to Steubenville Big Red, 63-55.

They came back to top Wellsville, 67-49, but lost at Wellsburg last Saturday night, 77-60.

Ford Frick Says He's Not Alarmed Over Pro Football

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick insisted today he is not alarmed over the rapid rise of professional football, but urged major league clubowners and the rules committee to do something about "pepping up the game."

"What baseball needs is few delays and home runs and more snappy plays and stolen bases," Frick said. "Not enough is being done in this respect."

His comments were prompted by the results of an Associated Press poll. In the balloting by 215 sportswriters and broadcasters, 109 voted "yes" to the question "will professional football in 10 or 20 years replace baseball as our national pastime?" there were 106 dissenters.

In addition, 25 voters insisted that pro football already has knocked baseball out of the box as America's No. 1 sport while another 15 predicted the grid game will take over in fewer than 10 years.

"I'm not alarmed that pro football is going to take baseball's place," Frick said. "We did have a slight decrease in major league attendance (5.6 per cent) last season. But don't forget that 30 million people watched professional baseball games and that the game is being played in more high schools and colleges than ever before."

Jerry West Scores 63 Points In Lakers' Win

By The Associated Press

Jerry West's sensational scoring Wednesday night, topped by only two men in the history of the National Basketball Association, stole the thunder from the usual NBA leaders, the Boston Celtics and Wilt Chamberlain.

The 6-foot-3 Los Angeles backcourt star, an NBA sophomore from West Virginia, scored 63 points in the Lakers' 129-121 victory over the New York Knickerbockers.

Only Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor, West's Los Angeles teammate now in the Army, have bettered the mark. Baylor had a high of 71, and Chamberlain, Philadelphia's giant scoring machine, has 73 in regulation time and 78 in triple overtime.

Wilma Ward Trains For Indoor Classic

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten pounds heavier and fighting a head cold, Wilma Rudolph Ward, Olympic triple gold medal winner, is training here for Saturday night's invitational indoor track meet in the Sports Arena.

She flew in Wednesday night from her home in Nashville. Accompanying her were her Tennessee A&I teammate, Jean Holmes; Coach Ed Temple and broad jumper Ralph Boston.

Wilma and Miss Holmes are entered in the 60-yard dash.

"I plan to win," said Wilma, a recent bride. She admitted that she gained weight during the winter on the banquet circuit.

No Major Alterations Made In Grid Rules For 1962 By NCAA Committee

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The rules of college football got a minor touchup but no major alterations this year from the NCAA rules committee, which keyed its efforts toward curbing injuries.

The committee left unchanged the existing substitution rule after considering coaches' requests for permission to use as many as three "wild card" subs.

Fritz Crisler, former Michigan coach who served as acting chairman, said he believed most coaches would find the committee's actions acceptable.

"The small colleges favor one rule, the universities like another," Crisler said. "I think, however, the majority do not want free, unlimited, unrestricted substitution."

The committee adjourned its three-day annual meeting after holding a special session Wednesday night to consider the substitution rule.

One other action came out of the night session, however—a decision to request stricter enforcement of a rule against piling on a tackled player.

The committee left unchanged the regulations governing player equipment. It said that before changes are authorized, a thorough assessment should be made of numerous player-injury surveys now under way or completed.

Crisler said the chairman of the NCAA injury committee, Ernie McCoy of Penn State, will be asked to survey all studies on football injuries, including one done by the Army, one by Cornell and Michigan and others.

More rigid enforcement was asked of rules against clipping, and words or signals that would rattle a team preparing to put the ball in play.

The penalty for illegal shift was reduced from 15 to 5 yards to make it equal to the illegal motion penalty.

A team kicking the ball will be authorized to touch it within the opponents' 10-yard line and make it dead. Previously, such action was ruled a touchback and the ball was brought out to the 20.

The committee boosted from 5 to 15 yards the penalty for violating a rule that a forward pass or place kick held by an opponent cannot be kicked.

The committee retained the college rule that a visiting team has to change jerseys if need be to contrast with the home team, but decreed that in high school football the home team must make the change. Formerly the change was obligatory on visiting teams of high schools as well as colleges.

Cleveland Looks Forward To Talented Rookie Batch

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It's been years since the Cleveland Indians have had such a promising batch of rookies as the ones which will report to their spring training camp in Tucson, Ariz., next month.

Way back in 1929, the Indians presented such future stars as Earl Averill, Wes Ferell, Mel Harder and Dick Harder and Dick Porter for the first time. Only time will tell whether history will repeat 32 years later. In any event, Mel McGaha, the freshman manager of the Indians, anxiously is awaiting such youngsters as pitcher Sam McDowell, outfielders Ty Cline and Al Luplow and infielders Jack Kubiszyn and Hal Jones.

Virtually everybody who has seen McDowell pitch has predicted future stardom for the 19-year-old Pittsburgh southpaw. He received a reported six - figure bonus to sign with the Indians' organization two years ago.

"The boy has the chance to become a great pitcher," said Bobby Feller, who ranks with Cy Young as the greatest of all Cleveland pitchers. "Despite his youth, I wouldn't be surprised if he makes the club this year."

McDowell's record at Salt Lake City last season, 13 victories and 10 defeats, isn't tremendously impressive until you look at his strikeout figures. He fanned 156 in 175 innings and showed a blazing fast ball and sharp curve to go with it. Wildness hurt him but he's young, industrious and willing to learn. It's a safe bet he'll be master pitching coach Harder's pet pupil this spring.

The trading of Jimmy Piersall to Washington paves the way for young Cline to take over as the Indians' regular center fielder. A 22-year-old left - handed hitter, Cline demonstrated, in a brief trial last fall, that he can do it all in the field. Still to be decided is whether he can hit big league pitching.

Off to a slow start last year, the youngster came fast at Salt Lake City and was approaching .300 when the Indians called him up. He finished with .290.

"I wouldn't be at all surprised if he hit .300 for us," said McGaha. This I'm certain of. He's a hard working kid."

Luplow, three months older than Cline, has more power. He slammed 17 home runs and drove in 91 runs on a .302 batting average with Salt Lake City and led the Pacific Coast League with 16 triples and 281 total bases.

Another heavy socker is Jones, the big first baseman who hit 27 home runs and drove in 100 runs on a .270 batting average at Salt Lake City. He hit a couple of four baggers in a dozen games with the Indians. Kubiszyn is a fancy fielding shortstop who saw brief service with Cleveland last September. He must improve, however, on his .247 Salt Lake City batting average.

Cleveland is counting on lefty Don Rudolph, 31-year-old draftee from Indianapolis, to take some of the relief load off Bob Allen. Rudolph, 18-9, was one of the best pitchers in the American Association last year. Other highly regarded newcomers are Bill Dailey, a 26-year-old righthander, who divided 18 decisions at Salt Lake City, and Steve Hamilton, 10-12 with the same club.

Southpaw Tommy John and right-handers Larry Patterson and Floyd Weaver are first year pitchers. None is over 20 and all probably will be farmed out. John was 10-4 and Patterson 4-5 at Dubuque while Weaver was 6-4 at Burlington and 1-2 at Selma.

With the exception of Gordon Lund, a .260 hitting infielder from Burlington, the others are first year players. The most impressive records belong to Autilio Martinez, a first baseman from Santo Domingo, who batted .368 with 16 homers and 81 runs batted in at Quincy; Bob Chance, 361 with 16 homers and 96 RBI at El Paso; and Hector Cardenas, a younger brother of the Reds' shortstop, who batted .325 with 16 homers and 85 RBI at Dubuque. Catcher Dick Booker (.924 at Batavia), and outfielders Tommy Agee and Frank Decastris (.261 and 251 at Dubuque, respectively), are the others.

Browns Sign Texan, Left-Handed Passer

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns announced the signing today of left-handed passer John Furman of Texas Western, who ranked sixth in passing and total offense among the major collegians in 1961.

The 6-foot-3, 205-pounder completed the Texas Western season with 1,026 yards passing and another 308 rushing for a total offense figure of 1,334 yards. He tossed passes for 10 touchdowns and four 2-point conversions.

He was Cleveland's fifth draft choice.

Iowa Unit May Drop Truck Plan With Ohio

AMES, Iowa (AP) — The Iowa Reciprocity Board has informed the Iowa Highway Commission that it is considering cancelling its truck reciprocity agreement with Ohio.

While efforts are being made to reach a compromise, according to Carl Schach, the reason for the move toward pulling out of the agreement with Ohio is the Buckeye State's axle-mile tax which Iowa does not have. Schach is both chairman of the reciprocity board and head of the highway commission's planning division.

ABL Awaits Word From Los Angeles

By The Associated Press

The American Basketball League still awaits word on the future of the Los Angeles Jets.

A meeting between Jet officials and ABL officials was scheduled to continue today. A spokesman said there is "a good possibility" that the Jets will remain in the league.

The meeting was called to revamp the schedule in an attempt to help the club financially.

Two of the Jets' home games, scheduled Friday and Sunday with Hawaii, have been postponed. And in Cleveland, a spokesman for the Pipers said a doubleheader scheduled for Youngstown, Ohio, tonight, has been canceled.

New York was scheduled against Pittsburgh and Los Angeles against Cleveland in that one.

In games Wednesday night, Pittsburgh whipped Cleveland 107-97 and Chicago toppled New York 111-95 in a doubleheader at Cleveland, and San Francisco took Hawaii 109-92.

Bantam Title To Be Settled

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—One of boxing's three disputed titles will be cleared up tonight and Brazilian fans think their Eder Jofre will emerge as the undisputed bantamweight champion in his match with Ireland's John Caldwell.

Jofre, a knockout puncher with 40 victories and three draws in 43 fights, is recognized in South America and by the U.S. National Boxing Association as world champ. Caldwell, 23-year-old boxer who also is unbeaten, holds the European version of the same world title.

There are dual claimants in both the middleweight and light heavy classes with Gene Fullmer and Terry Downes splitting the middle title and Archie Moore and Harold Johnson holding shares of the light heavy crown.

The bantam dispute arose after Mexico's Joe Becerra retired following a knockout by Eloy Sanchez in a nontitle fight, Aug. 30, 1960. Jofre was recognized after he stopped Sanchez, Nov. 18, 1960. Caldwell gained the European nod by whipping exchamp Alphonse Halimi March 30, 1961 and repeating last Oct. 31.

Brazilian fans have made Jofre, 25, a top heavy favorite on the strength of a superior punching power. They think they spotted a chink in the Irishman's defense during his workouts. Jofre has stopped 30 opponents, including the last 10 men he faced. Caldwell has 12 knockouts in his 25-0 record.

Red Wings Will Gun For NHL's 4th Spot

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings, benefiting from a New York nosedive, will be gunning for fourth place in the National Hockey League tonight when they visit Boston and the lowly Bruins.

A Detroit victory would vault the Wings into sole possession of the last playoff spot, and a tie would give them a share of it. Their match is the only one scheduled in the league.

The Red Wings, idle Wednesday night, remained just one point back of the Rangers, who lost their sixth straight and eighth in nine starts, 4-2, to Toronto.

Montreal retaining its two-point hold on first place with a 7-3 rout of Chicago.

Steve Trbovich, senior quarterback of the 1961 Midland High School Leopards' football team, added another laurel to his slate last week.

He was named to the Wigwam National high school All-American football team, from which 44 players will be selected to play in a game May 19, 1962.

At the conclusion of the 1961 season, Trbovich was named to the first team of the Midwestern Athletic Conference Class A team and the All-W.P.I.A.L. Class A big thirty - three squad.

He also received the Dave Alston Memorial award, which is given to the most valuable back on the Midland team at the conclusion of each season.

Now-
Ford frees you forever
from the expense and bother
of frequent car servicing.
Twice-a-year maintenance is here-
and only the cars from Ford have it!

In a new Ford Galaxie or Fairlane, the odometer rolls off a long 6,000 miles between every service stop. Compare this with other '62 cars and here's what you'll find: many cars still have to check in for service every 1,000 miles; some every 2,000 miles; others every 4,000 miles. Only the cars from Ford need service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles. You save time, save money.

Like another famous Ford first—the 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty*—twice-a-year maintenance is dramatic evidence of the superior quality built into Ford cars. Just one stop every 6,000 miles takes care of servicing. You'll go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, 2 years or 30,000 miles without changing engine coolant-antifreeze. Brakes adjust themselves.

Why buy a service headache when Ford is ready with the cure? See your Ford Dealer—and see how close Ford has come to the fill-it-and-forget-it car!

*Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn, warrant to their customers as follows: That for 12 months or for 12,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers, of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty, appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters, spark plugs, and ignition points.

"The boy has the chance to become a great pitcher," said Bobby Feller, who ranks with Cy Young as the greatest of all Cleveland pitchers. "Despite his youth, I wouldn't be surprised if he makes the club this year."

McDowell's record at Salt Lake City last season, 13 victories and 10 defeats, isn't tremendously impressive until you look at his strikeout figures. He fanned 156 in 175 innings and showed a blazing fast ball and sharp curve to go with it. Wildness hurt him but he's young, industrious and willing to learn. It's a safe bet he'll be master pitching coach Harder's pet pupil this spring.

The trading of Jimmy Piersall to Washington paves the way for young Cline to take over as the Indians' regular center fielder. A 22-year-old left - handed hitter, Cline demonstrated, in a brief trial last fall, that he can do it all in the field. Still to be decided is whether he can hit big league pitching.

Off to a slow start last year, the youngster came fast at Salt Lake City and was approaching .300 when the Indians called him up. He finished with .290.

"I wouldn't be at all surprised if he hit .300 for us," said McGaha. This I'm certain of. He's a hard working kid."

Luplow, three months older than Cline, has more power. He slammed 17 home runs and drove in 91 runs on a .302 batting average with Salt Lake City and led the Pacific Coast League with 16 triples and 281 total bases.

Another heavy socker is Jones, the big first baseman who hit 27 home runs and drove in 100 runs on a .270 batting average at Salt Lake City. He hit a couple of four baggers in a dozen games with the Indians. Kubiszyn is a fancy fielding shortstop who saw brief service with Cleveland last September. He must improve, however, on his .247 Salt Lake City batting average.

Cleveland is counting on lefty Don Rudolph, 31-year-old draftee from Indianapolis, to take some of the relief load off Bob Allen. Rudolph, 18-9, was one of the best pitchers in the American Association last year. Other highly regarded newcomers are Bill Dailey, a 26-year-old righthander, who divided 18 decisions at Salt Lake City, and Steve Hamilton, 10-12 with the same club.

Southpaw Tommy John and right-handers Larry Patterson and Floyd Weaver are first year pitchers. None is over 20 and all probably will be farmed out. John was 10-4 and Patterson 4-5 at Dubuque while Weaver was 6-4 at Burlington and 1-2 at Selma.

With the exception of Gordon Lund, a .260 hitting infielder from Burlington, the others are first year players. The most impressive records belong to Autilio Martinez, a first baseman from Santo Domingo, who batted .368 with 16 homers and 81 runs batted in at Quincy; Bob Chance, 361 with 16 homers and 96 RBI at El Paso; and Hector Cardenas, a younger brother of the Reds' shortstop, who batted .325 with 16 homers and 85 RBI at Dubuque. Catcher Dick Booker (.924 at Batavia), and outfielders Tommy Agee and Frank Decastris (.261 and 251 at Dubuque, respectively), are the others.

Browns Sign Texan, Left-Handed Passer

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns announced the signing today of left-handed passer John Furman of Texas Western, who ranked sixth in passing and total offense among the major collegians in 1961.

The 6-foot-3, 205-pounder completed the Texas Western season with 1,026 yards passing and another 308 rushing for a total offense figure of 1,334 yards. He tossed passes for 10 touchdowns and four 2-point conversions.

He was Cleveland's fifth draft choice.

Iowa Unit May Drop Truck Plan With Ohio

AMES, Iowa (AP) — The Iowa Reciprocity Board has informed the Iowa Highway Commission that it is considering cancelling its truck reciprocity agreement with Ohio.

While efforts are being made to reach a compromise, according to Carl Schach, the reason for the move toward pulling out of the agreement with Ohio is the Buckeye State's axle-mile tax which Iowa does not have. Schach is both chairman of the reciprocity board and head of the highway commission's planning division.

Bantam Title To Be Settled

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—One of boxing's three disputed titles will be cleared up tonight and Brazilian fans think their Eder Jofre will emerge as the undisputed bantamweight champion in his match with Ireland's John Caldwell.

Jofre, a knockout puncher with 40 victories and three draws in 43 fights, is recognized in South America and by the U.S. National Boxing Association as world champ. Caldwell, 23-year-old boxer who also is unbeaten, holds the European version of the same world title.

There are dual claimants in both the middleweight and light heavy classes with Gene Fullmer and Terry Downes splitting the middle title and Archie Moore and Harold Johnson holding shares of the light heavy crown.

The bantam dispute arose after Mexico's Joe Becerra retired following a knockout by Eloy Sanchez in a nontitle fight, Aug. 30, 1960. Jofre was recognized after he stopped Sanchez, Nov. 18, 1960. Caldwell gained the European nod by whipping exchamp Alphonse Halimi March 30, 1961 and repeating last Oct. 31.

Brazilian fans have made Jofre, 25, a top heavy favorite on the strength of a superior punching power. They think they spotted a chink in the Irishman's defense during his workouts. Jofre has stopped 30 opponents, including the last 10 men he faced. Caldwell has 12 knockouts in his 25-0 record.

Red Wings Will Gun For NHL's 4th Spot

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings, benefiting from a New York nosedive, will be gunning for fourth place in the National Hockey League tonight when they visit Boston and the lowly Bruins.

A Detroit victory would vault the Wings into sole possession of the last playoff spot, and a tie would give them a share of it. Their match is the only one scheduled in the league.

The Red Wings, idle Wednesday night, remained just one point back of the Rangers, who lost their sixth straight and eighth in nine starts, 4-2, to Toronto.

Montreal retaining its two-point hold on first place with a 7-3 rout of Chicago.

ABL Awaits Word From Los Angeles

By The Associated Press

The American Basketball League still awaits word on the future of the Los Angeles Jets.

A meeting between Jet officials and ABL officials was scheduled to continue today. A spokesman said there is "a good possibility" that the Jets will remain in the league.

The meeting was called to revamp the schedule in an attempt to help the club financially.

Two of the Jets' home games, scheduled Friday and Sunday with Hawaii, have been postponed. And in Cleveland, a spokesman for the Pipers said a doubleheader scheduled for Youngstown, Ohio, tonight, has been canceled.

New York was scheduled against Pittsburgh and Los Angeles against Cleveland in that one.

In games Wednesday night, Pittsburgh whipped Cleveland 107-97 and Chicago toppled New York 111-95 in a doubleheader at Cleveland, and San Francisco took Hawaii 109-92.

Midland's Steve Trbovich Gains All-American Team

Steve Trbovich, senior quarterback of the 1961 Midland High School Leopards' football team, added another laurel to his slate last week.

He was named to the Wigwam National high school All-American football team, from which 44 players will be selected to play in a game May 19, 1962.

At the conclusion of the 1961 season, Trbovich was named to the first team of the Midwestern Athletic Conference Class A team and the All-W.P.I.A.L. Class A big thirty - three squad.

He also received the Dave Alston Memorial award, which is given to the most valuable back on the Midland team at the conclusion of each season.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Trbovich, 528 Ohio Ave., Midland, Pa.

Steve's father was a star center on the 1931 Midland team, which was the only undefeated, untied team in Midland's football history.

The city manager's proposed budget, providing $838,039 for the general fund, was trimmed to $827,569 by City Council.

Now-
Ford frees you forever
from the expense and bother
of frequent car servicing.
Twice-a-year maintenance is here-
and only the cars from Ford have it!

In a new Ford Galaxie or Fairlane, the odometer rolls off a long 6,000 miles between every service stop. Compare this with other '62 cars and here's what you'll find: many cars still have to check in for service every 1,000 miles; some every 2,000 miles; others every 4,000 miles. Only the cars from Ford need service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles. You save time, save money.

Like another famous Ford first—the 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty*—twice-a-year maintenance is dramatic evidence of the superior quality built into Ford cars. Just one stop every 6,000 miles takes care of servicing. You'll go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, 2 years or 30,000 miles without changing engine coolant-antifreeze. Brakes adjust themselves.

Why buy a service headache when Ford is ready with the cure? See your Ford Dealer—and see how close Ford has come to the fill-it-and-forget-it car!

*Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn, warrant to their customers as follows: That for 12 months or for 12,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers, of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty, appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters, spark plugs, and ignition points.

MACKALL MOTORS, INC.
1503 Pennsylvania Avenue

By R. L. LIDE

I have said before that Columbiana County is one place in the state of Ohio where most anything can happen, and usually does.

I have direct reference to our woods and waters.

The latest episode is the appearance of one of those varmints known as nutria.

These South American exotic imports are beginning to show up in Columbiana and Portage counties. Roy Williams, a farmer in Knox Township, brought me a pelt of one which he killed in his barn recently. No doubt an escapee, but all it takes to mess up our muskrat population is to allow one pair of these rodents to become established in our local swamps and marshes.

There is no closed season on nutria and they should be destroyed on sight when found outside after escaping from some privately-owned enclosure.

OTHER STRANGE animals that have been found in the county are a pair of platinum foxes killed by traffic, a wolverine taken by 'coon hunter near Beaver Lake, a brush wolfe and a badger.

Numerous reports have been passed along to me by persons seeing a mountain lion, a black beer and wildcats. These I discount generally, although I would not be surprised if a bear or wildcat did show up, since all they have to do is walk in from neighboring Pennsylvania. The only "wildcats" I have seen thus far have been wild house cats who lost most of their tail by some means or other and after being killed were labeled "bobcats" by the hunters.

Muskies, walleyes and northern pike have been taken in Beaver Creek along with both rainbow and brown trout.

At the same time, Beaver Creek has been badly abused with pollution from various sources, some accidental, others purposely.

Strip-mining operations are running a portion of Beaver Creek near Negley. The situation prevailed all last summer, with the end not yet in sight. A most disgusting situation.

ON THE credit side of the ledger, however, are the activities of the Salem Hunting Club, with its continuous operation of teaching hunting safety to so many youngsters.

So far 381 young nimrods have passed the hunter safety course which has kept four instructors busy since the program began in 1953. These men also have lectured to various youth groups on the importance of hunter safety. Their services are available by contacting the club president, Dave Kirby. 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts, church groups, etc., should take notice and benefit from the opportunity.

Pros Set To Tee Off In Crosby Golf Event

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's 21st national pro-amateur golf tournament opened today with 324 players sharing attention with the weatherman.

While golfers and fans alike hoped for continuance of the clear skies of the past week, the forecast called for overcast tonight with possible rain Friday.

Defending champion Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., headed the bulky field in quest of another $5,300 top prize for the leading professional in this $50,000 production.

Another $3,000 goes to the play-for-pay shooter on the winning pro-amateur team. Crosby's format calls for each pro to have an amateur partner with celebrities of entertainment, business and sports adding spice to the competition.

Young Phil Rodgers, who won the Los Angeles Open by nine strokes two weeks ago, continued his hot shooting in his practice round Wednesday.

Th field was split into three groups for today's opening round. One played Monterey Peninsula Country Club, another Cypress Point and the third at Pebble Beach. By Saturday night each will have played all three courses with the low scorers continuing in Sunday's finals at Pebble Beach.

To Discuss Building

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Possible construction of a $1.5 million music and drama center on the Wittenberg University campus was to be discussed today. Dr. George C. Izenour, a Wittenberg alumnus and Yale University professor who is a leading designer of theater facilities, was meeting with university officials and architect T. Norman Mensell. Raising funds and finding a site still loom before the building can become a reality.

McGill Leads Cage Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Utah's Billy McGill continues almost unchallenged as the nation's major college basketball scoring leader, but there's a donneybrook a-building in the scramble for the team scoring lead.

Less than half a point separate the first five teams, the tightest race in history the NCAA Service Bureau said today.

In games through Jan. 13 Indiana had the lead with an average of 87.58 points per game. It was followed in order by Arizona State (87.57), Loyola, Ill., (87.45), Boston College (87.44) and Kentucky (87.21).

McGill averages 37.4. The only other player averaging 30 points or more is Seton Hall sophomore Nick Werkman with 32.3.

There are two new accuracy leaders, Layton Jones of Auburn in field goal shooting and Tommy Boyer of Arkansas in free throws. Jones is now hitting .632 from the floor, replacing Ohio State's Jerry Lucas (.620) while Boyer has assumed free throw leadership from his teammate, Jerry Carlton. Boyer is hitting .947 and Carlton .920.

Judge Herbert Says He Won't Run Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge Thomas J. Herbert has announced he will not seek re-election to the Ohio Supreme Court for a second six-year term.

Herbert, governor in 1947-49, has been ailing since a stroke last year and has been in a hospital since suffering a seizure last week. The 67-year-old Republican said he would make every effort to serve the rest of his term, expiring next January, to the best of his ability.

Parents Make Plea To Spare Son's Life

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Schaber made a personal appeal to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Wednesday to spare their son from death in the electric chair.

Their son, Lawson E. Schaber, 24, of Toledo, is scheduled for electrocution Friday for the murder of Velma Byers, a Toledo taxi driver, during a robbery Feb. 18, 1960.

Stephen A. Fazekas, one of two Toledo attorneys who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Schaber, said he would follow the governor's suggestion to ask the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay of execution pending an appeal to that court.

By R. L. LIDE

I have said before that Columbiana County is one place in the state of Ohio where most anything can happen, and usually does.

I have direct reference to our woods and waters.

The latest episode is the appearance of one of those varmints known as nutria.

These South American exotic imports are beginning to show up in Columbiana and Portage counties. Roy Williams, a farmer in Knox Township, brought me a pelt of one which he killed in his barn recently. No doubt an escapee, but all it takes to mess up our muskrat population is to allow one pair of these rodents to become established in our local swamps and marshes.

There is no closed season on nutria and they should be destroyed on sight when found outside after escaping from some privately-owned enclosure.

OTHER STRANGE animals that have been found in the county are a pair of platinum foxes killed by traffic, a wolverine taken by 'coon hunter near Beaver Lake, a brush wolfe and a badger.

Numerous reports have been passed along to me by persons seeing a mountain lion, a black beer and wildcats. These I discount generally, although I would not be surprised if a bear or wildcat did show up, since all they have to do is walk in from neighboring Pennsylvania. The only "wildcats" I have seen thus far have been wild house cats who lost most of their tail by some means or other and after being killed were labeled "bobcats" by the hunters.

Muskies, walleyes and northern pike have been taken in Beaver Creek along with both rainbow and brown trout.

At the same time, Beaver Creek has been badly abused with pollution from various sources, some accidental, others purposely.

Strip-mining operations are running a portion of Beaver Creek near Negley. The situation prevailed all last summer, with the end not yet in sight. A most disgusting situation.

ON THE credit side of the ledger, however, are the activities of the Salem Hunting Club, with its continuous operation of teaching hunting safety to so many youngsters.

So far 381 young nimrods have passed the hunter safety course which has kept four instructors busy since the program began in 1953. These men also have lectured to various youth groups on the importance of hunter safety. Their services are available by contacting the club president, Dave Kirby. 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts, church groups, etc., should take notice and benefit from the opportunity.

Pros Set To Tee Off In Crosby Golf Event

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's 21st national pro-amateur golf tournament opened today with 324 players sharing attention with the weatherman.

While golfers and fans alike hoped for continuance of the clear skies of the past week, the forecast called for overcast tonight with possible rain Friday.

Defending champion Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., headed the bulky field in quest of another $5,300 top prize for the leading professional in this $50,000 production.

Another $3,000 goes to the play-for-pay shooter on the winning pro-amateur team. Crosby's format calls for each pro to have an amateur partner with celebrities of entertainment, business and sports adding spice to the competition.

Young Phil Rodgers, who won the Los Angeles Open by nine strokes two weeks ago, continued his hot shooting in his practice round Wednesday.

Th field was split into three groups for today's opening round. One played Monterey Peninsula Country Club, another Cypress Point and the third at Pebble Beach. By Saturday night each will have played all three courses with the low scorers continuing in Sunday's finals at Pebble Beach.

To Discuss Building

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Possible construction of a $1.5 million music and drama center on the Wittenberg University campus was to be discussed today. Dr. George C. Izenour, a Wittenberg alumnus and Yale University professor who is a leading designer of theater facilities, was meeting with university officials and architect T. Norman Mensell. Raising funds and finding a site still loom before the building can become a reality.

McGill Leads Cage Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Utah's Billy McGill continues almost unchallenged as the nation's major college basketball scoring leader, but there's a donneybrook a-building in the scramble for the team scoring lead.

Less than half a point separate the first five teams, the tightest race in history the NCAA Service Bureau said today.

In games through Jan. 13 Indiana had the lead with an average of 87.58 points per game. It was followed in order by Arizona State (87.57), Loyola, Ill., (87.45), Boston College (87.44) and Kentucky (87.21).

McGill averages 37.4. The only other player averaging 30 points or more is Seton Hall sophomore Nick Werkman with 32.3.

There are two new accuracy leaders, Layton Jones of Auburn in field goal shooting and Tommy Boyer of Arkansas in free throws. Jones is now hitting .632 from the floor, replacing Ohio State's Jerry Lucas (.620) while Boyer has assumed free throw leadership from his teammate, Jerry Carlton. Boyer is hitting .947 and Carlton .920.

Judge Herbert Says He Won't Run Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge Thomas J. Herbert has announced he will not seek re-election to the Ohio Supreme Court for a second six-year term.

Herbert, governor in 1947-49, has been ailing since a stroke last year and has been in a hospital since suffering a seizure last week. The 67-year-old Republican said he would make every effort to serve the rest of his term, expiring next January, to the best of his ability.

Flu Outbreak Eases, Classes To Resume

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A mild flu outbreak has subsided and classes were to resume today at St. Francis DeSales Elementary School.

About 300 of the 700 pupils had been absent before the school closed Monday.

Due Insurance Slash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio students maintaining good grades may become eligible for an automobile insurance premium reduction under a plan of State Farm Mutual Insurance Co. The firm submitted details of the idea to the Ohio Department of Insurance Wednesday.

Selection Of Steering Group For Planning Is Under Way

Selection of a steering committee for a proposed study of a regional planning program for Columbiana County is nearing completion and a meeting with county commissioners is planned soon, Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers has announced.

Elliott is chairman of the County Agriculture Council's public affairs committee which, with the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, sponsored a public meeting Nov. 29 at which a resolution calling for the study was approved.

Elliott said letters are being received from various county organizations proposing representatives for the steering committee, and he will shortly announce the committee membership and plans for meeting with the commissioners.

Jan. 29 is the deadline for selecting the committee, according to the original resolution, which called for formation of the group in 60 days.

The steering committee is to meet with the commissioners to determine the size of the study committee and its membership.

The proposed study is to weigh the feasibility of regional planning, including the advantages and disadvantages of a planning commission, the problems on which it should work and possible methods of financing.

This committee would have no other authority than that of study, and its members are to serve without compensation.

Plans Reviewed For School In Southern Local

The new Southern Local School District Board of Education members familiarized themselves with plans for the proposed new high school at a meeting with Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, Wednesday night.

Beatty reviewed the general plans, specifications and layout of the structure to be erected on Route 39 east of Salineville.

Bids are to be opened Feb. 6 at the high school for the $760,000 project.

It was reported the Horton Pump Co. of Columbiana, currently drilling a well at the high school site, has passed the 100-foot depth, and is expected to complete the well late this week or next.

Robert Skinner, president, along with Charles Allison and Jack Stewart, board members, plan to attend a meeting of the County Board of Education Saturday at Lisbon.

The three members will also attend a conference on school board operations at Kent Feb. 27.

Pay Phone Looted

LISBON — Roy Stiver of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. at Salem reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday a pay phone at Paul's Pennzoil station south of Salem was broken from the wall and looted sometime Tuesday night or early yesterday. The amount of money taken was not determined.

Air Force Recruits Sought As Navigators

Sgt. James Lee, city recruiter, said the Air Force has an urgent need for navigators and the program is open to anyone with two years of college who can pass the mental and physical examinations.

Air Force navigator school graduates possess the knowledge to continue on to further training in reconnaisance, bombardment, and electronic counter-measures, the recruiter said. They are commissioned as second lieutenants upon graduation.

Sgt. Lee said those interested in the Aviation Cadet program may call him at his home EV. 7-2972 or visit him at his office in the City Hall Building. He will make arrangements for testing.

4 Officials To Attend Road Group's Meeting

Four public officials will be included in a Columbiana County delegation attending a dinner meeting of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association tonight at 6:30 in Warren.

They are State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Commissioners Galen Greenisen and Walter A. Hunston and Engineer Charles O. Snyder.

State Highway Director E. S. Preston will be the principal speaker. The East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce will send a seven-man delegation and a five-man group will represent Salem.

Sewage Plan Changes O.K. For Chester

Approval by the West Virginia Department of Health of revised plans for Chester's proposed sewage disposal system was announced at a meeting of Chester Council Wednesday night.

City Clerk Roy Cashdollar read a letter from G. O. Fortner, chief of engineering for the state department, advising the revised plans have been approved and assigned a permit number.

Council in December authorized application for a $105,000 federal grant in 1962 for the sewage system, the fifth time in seven years federal aid has been sought. Previous applications had been turned down because the city did not achieve high enough priority for funds available.

A. R. Todd Associates, Wheeling engineers, recently revised plans for the sewage system in line with the new application.

Council last night authorized the purchase of nine pair of boots for the volunteer fire department.

Councilman Donald Hissam reported debris has collected in Middle Run at the piers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. trestle, and suggested it be cleared away when weather permits.

Cashdollar reported a representative of the Hartford Boiler & Inspection Co. checked the furnace at the City Hall and found it in satisfactory condition.

2 Elders Are Chosen For Midland Church

Frank Gibson and Harry Humbert were named elders to serve for three years at the annual meeting of the First Presbyterian Church at Midland Wednesday evening in the social rooms.

Mrs. Peter Vukas was elected deaconess and L. F. Pickering, Julius Jacob and Thomas Kennedy, trustees.

The meeting was conducted by the Rev. George H. Bohlender, pastor.

About 40 attended the coverdish dinner that preceded the meeting.

Modern Jail Lacks —Enough Convicts

CUNEO, Italy (AP)—This north Italian town of 3,000 people has nearly finished an up-to-date jail complete with reception rooms, central heating and modern plumbing in every cell. But it lacks one thing—enough convicts.

The jail has quarters for 400, but Cuneo's old jail has only 20 prisoners ready to move into the new one.

Fire In Home Kills Four In West Virginia

MARMET, W. Va. (AP) — An elderly grocer, his housekeeper and her two children perished early today in a fire that burned his 4-room frame home to the ground near Emmons.

The victims:

Albert Graley, 75, operator of the Graley Store at Emmons; Martha Gillespie, 32, who made her home with the widower; and her children, Sue, 12, and Tommie Lee, 7.

Boyd Graley, a relative who also lived at the home, escaped possible death by having spent the night elsewhere.

A nephew of Albert Graley, Earl Graley, who lives two miles from the scene, was called by neighbors of Albert Graley. When he arrived, Earl Graley said, he thought he saw someone try unsuccessfully to get out of the burning home.

Then, he said, he saw no sign of life.

Albert Graley's wife, Hermie, died about six years ago. Although Emmons is in Kanawha County, the destroyed home was in Boone County.

The New Snobs In Television

The old-timers in the apartment house in which I live shake their heads sadly in that gone, all gone gesture. They remember the days when our doorman had brass buttons and a whistle.

"Sic transit," they mutter, "gloria mundi."

The veteran theatergoers mourn, too. They mourn the halcyon days when ladies swept down the aisle in the best, the very best satins and furs, and the men stood smoking in the lobby, thumbs hooked in their cummerbunds.

The doormen of 1962, let's face it, are an unkept lot by and large. And people are going to the theater wearing sneakers. Why, I can remember back when we all used to dress up for television.

-:-

THOSE WERE the days! There'd be that last - minute search for the cufflinks, the smell of after-shave lotion and l'Air du Temps in the room, the tying of cravats, the glint of patent leather, the straightening of the seams, the rustle of fur pieces, the frantic instructions to the baby sitter, the rush for the door.

And in a few moments we'd be at the Herendeens, tiptoeing to our corner of the sofa, a fine Scotch in our hands.

"Pardon me."

Sh-h-h.

"Hello, Jane."

Sh-h-h.

Dagmar was coming on. Morey Amsterdam.

The Herendeens were the only television set owners in the neighborhood and they entertained on a scale with Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald. The Veritys, of course, also were looked up to. An aerial clung to their chimney. But some of us knew the Veritys did not as yet own a t-e-e-v-e-e. They did however, have s-t-a-t-u-s.

WELL, the Herendeens, the Veritys and we have packed away our canes and crinolines in the hall closet. Forever, I suppose. These days, we don't even dress up for "Hallmark Hall of Fame."

No, the snobbism that attached itself to television in the old days is gone. Gone are those energetic hosts who worked the brightness dial and the contrast dial like professional safecrackers. We have in their place the New Snobs, who aren't half so dashing.

The New Snob may be a thoughtful, community - action sort who says, "We only turn on the set for the rerun of 'Wisdom.'" (He is in direct descent from the Old Snob, who used to say, "I'd never have one of those infernal machines in the house.")

Or the New Snob may sit at the other end of the spectrum, maintaining that "the only worthwhile stuff on television today is being done by Elliot Ness."

IN BETWEEN are the Wastelanders, the Nostalgists and the Cult Killers.

The Wastelanders are those who tell you that nothing serious or uplifting is available on TV.

(Reading them the titles of a few serious, uplifting programs from the week's listings will be of no avail; any good Wastelander simply will snatch the paper from your hand when you're through and read back to you those programs you neglected to mention.)

The Nostalgists are in mourning. They recall, through brimming eyes, the Golden Era of television — the era of the great playwrights, "Studio One," Kraft, Robert Montgomery. Television drama, they say, is dead.

(No need to try borrowing kinescopes of those old "Robert Montgomery Presents" programs, just to prove to your friends how awful they could be. The networks wouldn't lend them to you to begin with. And your friends wouldn't believe their eyes.)

FINALLY, the Cult Killers. They hate the stand-up interlocutors like Ed Sullivan, the sit-down ones like Jack Paar, and the walking-around ones like Garry Moore. And there's nothing you can do about it.

My only suggestion is that, like President and Mrs. Kennedy, you dress up once in awhile. Make television an Event in your home. Have the Herendeens (who vote Wastelander these days) and the Veritys in for cocktails next Sunday.

And when they're just mellow enough, give them the old sh-h-h treatment and turn on "Mister Ed." We need a little more class in our lives.

Merchants Will Hear New Sales Tax Rules

Retail businessmen in the East Liverpool area will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Council chamber at City Hall to hear an explanation of the new state sales tax system.

Walter Sweeney of Youngstown, manager of the Sixth Sales Tax District, will expalin the new regulations. The meeting is being arranged by the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which said any retailer in the area is welcome to attend.

In one feature of the new law, use of prepaid sales tax stamps was discontinued, effective Dec. 31. The new regulations provide for a 2 per cent discount to merchants who make advance payments estimated on the previous year's business. Other details of the new regulations also will be explained, including changes in methods of filing reports with the state.

Couple Held In Theft Case

WEIRTON — Armando Martello, 33, who was named in four indictments charging forgery returned by the January Grand Jury of Hancock County Circuit Court, has been charged with breaking and entering of Jim's Bargain Store.

Police said his wife, Mrs. Barbara L. Martello, 18, is also charged in the store entering in which $1,600 cash was taken from a small office safe.

The couple was bound over to the Brooke County Grand Jury under bonds of $5,000 and $1,000, respectively, at hearings Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Martello was arrested Tuesday by sheriff's deputies on a capias issued by Judge Ralph E. Pryor after the Weirton man failed to appear at arraignment Monday on the four indictments.

Police said Martello confessed the robbery at the store when he could not give them a satisfactory explanation for a large amount of money found on his person when arrested.

Martello will await arraignment before the Brooke County Grand Jury after his release from charges in Hancock County, authorities said.

Mrs. Martello is to appear before the Brooke County Grand Jury in February. Police said she waited outside the store as a "lookout" while her husband broke a large window to gain entrance.

Meanwhile, trial of Haywood Lyles, 54, of Weirton, scheduled Wednesday at New Cumberland, was postponed because of a civil suit. He is accused of grand larceny.

Steward said further informations will be lodged as soon as they can be prepared.

Last October, commissioners became aware of discrepancies in the welfare department and both Davis and Caputo could offer no explanation.

Ross lodged charges against the pair and the recent Grand Jury indicted them on 12 counts each of conspiracy and embezzlement.

They were indicted on evidence discovered then by an audit and both men acknowledged responsibility. Commissioners said it now appears after further auditing that about $23,497.68 is missing. Both men have denied responsibility for the full amount.

The New Snobs In Television

The old-timers in the apartment house in which I live shake their heads sadly in that gone, all gone gesture. They remember the days when our doorman had brass buttons and a whistle.

"Sic transit," they mutter, "gloria mundi."

The veteran theatergoers mourn, too. They mourn the halcyon days when ladies swept down the aisle in the best, the very best satins and furs, and the men stood smoking in the lobby, thumbs hooked in their cummerbunds.

The doormen of 1962, let's face it, are an unkept lot by and large. And people are going to the theater wearing sneakers. Why, I can remember back when we all used to dress up for television.

-:-

THOSE WERE the days! There'd be that last - minute search for the cufflinks, the smell of after-shave lotion and l'Air du Temps in the room, the tying of cravats, the glint of patent leather, the straightening of the seams, the rustle of fur pieces, the frantic instructions to the baby sitter, the rush for the door.

And in a few moments we'd be at the Herendeens, tiptoeing to our corner of the sofa, a fine Scotch in our hands.

"Pardon me."

Sh-h-h.

"Hello, Jane."

Sh-h-h.

Dagmar was coming on. Morey Amsterdam.

The Herendeens were the only television set owners in the neighborhood and they entertained on a scale with Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald. The Veritys, of course, also were looked up to. An aerial clung to their chimney. But some of us knew the Veritys did not as yet own a t-e-e-v-e-e. They did however, have s-t-a-t-u-s.

WELL, the Herendeens, the Veritys and we have packed away our canes and crinolines in the hall closet. Forever, I suppose. These days, we don't even dress up for "Hallmark Hall of Fame."

No, the snobbism that attached itself to television in the old days is gone. Gone are those energetic hosts who worked the brightness dial and the contrast dial like professional safecrackers. We have in their place the New Snobs, who aren't half so dashing.

The New Snob may be a thoughtful, community - action sort who says, "We only turn on the set for the rerun of 'Wisdom.'" (He is in direct descent from the Old Snob, who used to say, "I'd never have one of those infernal machines in the house.")

Or the New Snob may sit at the other end of the spectrum, maintaining that "the only worthwhile stuff on television today is being done by Elliot Ness."

IN BETWEEN are the Wastelanders, the Nostalgists and the Cult Killers.

The Wastelanders are those who tell you that nothing serious or uplifting is available on TV.

(Reading them the titles of a few serious, uplifting programs from the week's listings will be of no avail; any good Wastelander simply will snatch the paper from your hand when you're through and read back to you those programs you neglected to mention.)

The Nostalgists are in mourning. They recall, through brimming eyes, the Golden Era of television — the era of the great playwrights, "Studio One," Kraft, Robert Montgomery. Television drama, they say, is dead.

(No need to try borrowing kinescopes of those old "Robert Montgomery Presents" programs, just to prove to your friends how awful they could be. The networks wouldn't lend them to you to begin with. And your friends wouldn't believe their eyes.)

FINALLY, the Cult Killers. They hate the stand-up interlocutors like Ed Sullivan, the sit-down ones like Jack Paar, and the walking-around ones like Garry Moore. And there's nothing you can do about it.

My only suggestion is that, like President and Mrs. Kennedy, you dress up once in awhile. Make television an Event in your home. Have the Herendeens (who vote Wastelander these days) and the Veritys in for cocktails next Sunday.

And when they're just mellow enough, give them the old sh-h-h treatment and turn on "Mister Ed." We need a little more class in our lives.

Merchants Will Hear New Sales Tax Rules

Retail businessmen in the East Liverpool area will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Council chamber at City Hall to hear an explanation of the new state sales tax system.

Walter Sweeney of Youngstown, manager of the Sixth Sales Tax District, will expalin the new regulations. The meeting is being arranged by the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which said any retailer in the area is welcome to attend.

In one feature of the new law, use of prepaid sales tax stamps was discontinued, effective Dec. 31. The new regulations provide for a 2 per cent discount to merchants who make advance payments estimated on the previous year's business. Other details of the new regulations also will be explained, including changes in methods of filing reports with the state.

Couple Held In Theft Case

WEIRTON — Armando Martello, 33, who was named in four indictments charging forgery returned by the January Grand Jury of Hancock County Circuit Court, has been charged with breaking and entering of Jim's Bargain Store.

Police said his wife, Mrs. Barbara L. Martello, 18, is also charged in the store entering in which $1,600 cash was taken from a small office safe.

The couple was bound over to the Brooke County Grand Jury under bonds of $5,000 and $1,000, respectively, at hearings Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Martello was arrested Tuesday by sheriff's deputies on a capias issued by Judge Ralph E. Pryor after the Weirton man failed to appear at arraignment Monday on the four indictments.

Police said Martello confessed the robbery at the store when he could not give them a satisfactory explanation for a large amount of money found on his person when arrested.

Martello will await arraignment before the Brooke County Grand Jury after his release from charges in Hancock County, authorities said.

Mrs. Martello is to appear before the Brooke County Grand Jury in February. Police said she waited outside the store as a "lookout" while her husband broke a large window to gain entrance.

Meanwhile, trial of Haywood Lyles, 54, of Weirton, scheduled Wednesday at New Cumberland, was postponed because of a civil suit. He is accused of grand larceny.

New Charges Seen For Pair

BEAVER — Harry H. Davis of Industry and Robert L. Caputo of Monaca, former director and assistant director of the Beaver County Welfare Department, face further charges in connection with missing funds of the department.

Beaver County Commissioners James E. Ross, Eli G. Corak and Sam M. McCune told District Atty. Richard P. Steward to proceed with further charges.

Steward said further informations will be lodged as soon as they can be prepared.

Last October, commissioners became aware of discrepancies in the welfare department and both Davis and Caputo could offer no explanation.

Ross lodged charges against the pair and the recent Grand Jury indicted them on 12 counts each of conspiracy and embezzlement.

They were indicted on evidence discovered then by an audit and both men acknowledged responsibility. Commissioners said it now appears after further auditing that about $23,497.68 is missing. Both men have denied responsibility for the full amount.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Ways Offered To Stimulate Studies

As parents or teachers talk about stimulating a child's interest in his schoolwork when he's lagging at books, they usually seem to have in mind some kind of magic appeal which would cause him to strive constantly with zeal. Occasionally, this may happen. For example, a child at 8 or 10 may develop a great interest in collecting insects or rocks or stamps or a child on the farm may be very skillful at repairing farm machinery. If such interests are unusually strong and persist in the child, he might be stimulated to read on these subjects, in case attractive materials are provided. If he is a poor reader, his reading skills might then be greatly improved. Yet he might not acquire an effective interest in reading if what he reads is too hard for him to enjoy.

BUT WHEN WE talk of stimulating a child's interest in his books so he will give wholehearted attention to what is going on at school, and at most times when he is at his homework, we may be talking of something else.

For example, a Pennsylvania mother writes of her son:

"His second - grade teacher doesn't seem able to capture his attention or stimulate his interest sufficiently." This mother said the teacher wrote her asking that she tell her boy to pay attention at school.

The general kind of interest already referred to may register vaguely with the child's lessons at school or at home. But this interest hardly will last unless he has enjoyed success as he reads, spells, ciphers and the like.

We say the child must be interested, must pay attention, must concentrate in order to succeed at learning and so he must, in the long run. But how are we going to get him to pay attention, concentrate and be interested when he isn't?

THE SUREST COURSE is to find means to help him succeed.

Sometimes we can lure him into these ways. As a rule, however, we need to set the stage, even make some requirements, perhaps, so that he will gain some skills and enjoy some successes.

Not interested in learning to spell, he may become interested after mastering the correct spelling of a few words. Not interested in learning to read, he may grow interested after enjoying some success at reading.

The teacher at school, or the parent at home, can best cause the child to pay attention, concentrate and be interested and to try harder at his lessons by finding ways for him to read better, spell better, cipher better.

My bulletins, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Oil, Gas Leases Signed For Vast Four-State Area

NEW YORK (AP) — A four-state area surrounding Titusville, Pa., where the first United States oil well was brought in, has drawn the attention of petroleum geologists again.

"Quietly and without fanfare," the Humble Oil & Refining Co. reports it has signed oil and gas leases covering more than 600,000 acres in Ohio, West Virginia, New York and Pennsylvania.

The area in the Appalachian basin is believed also to contain untapped natural gas deposits. The northeast and midwest industrial complex means a market "virtually waiting at the wellhead," Humble said.

The company, chief operating affiliate of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), the world's largest oil concern, has set up an exploration office in Pittsburgh. Its main office is in Houston.

"In a way," said Chester W. Couser, Pittsburgh manager, "this is the last major unexplored oil basin in the United States."

He said that despite hundreds of shallow wells, many potential oil reservoirs at deeper levels never have been tested. The Titusville well, drilled 103 years ago, brought oil at only 69 feet.

Humble said it "will explore deeper zones from one to two miles down. Shallow tests also will be made in areas not previously explored."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Ways Offered To Stimulate Studies

As parents or teachers talk about stimulating a child's interest in his schoolwork when he's lagging at books, they usually seem to have in mind some kind of magic appeal which would cause him to strive continually with zeal. Occasionally, this may happen. For example, a child at 8 or 10 may develop a great interest in collecting insects or rocks or stamps or a child on the farm may be very skillful at repairing farm machinery. If such interests are unusually strong and persist in the child, he might be stimulated to read on these subjects, in case attractive materials are provided. If he is a poor reader, his reading skills might then be greatly improved. Yet he might not acquire an effective interest in reading if what he reads is too hard for him to enjoy.

BUT WHEN WE talk of stimulating a child's interest in his books so he will give wholehearted attention to what is going on at school, and at most times when he is at his homework, we may be talking of something else.

For example, a Pennsylvania mother writes of her son:

"His second - grade teacher doesn't seem able to capture his attention or stimulate his interest sufficiently." This mother said the teacher wrote her asking that she tell her boy to pay attention at school.

The general kind of interest already referred to may register vaguely with the child's lessons at school or at home. But this interest hardly will last unless he has enjoyed success as he reads, spells, ciphers and the like.

We say the child must be interested, must pay attention, must concentrate in order to succeed at learning and so he must, in the long run. But how are we going to get him to pay attention, concentrate and be interested when he isn't?

THE SUREST COURSE is to find means to help him succeed.

Sometimes we can lure him into these ways. As a rule, however, we need to set the stage, even make some requirements, perhaps, so that he will gain some skills and enjoy some successes.

Not interested in learning to spell, he may become interested after mastering the correct spelling of a few words. Not interested in learning to read, he may grow interested after enjoying some success at reading.

The teacher at school, or the parent at home, can best cause the child to pay attention, concentrate and be interested and to try harder at his lessons by finding ways for him to read better, spell better, cipher better.

My bulletins, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Oil, Gas Leases Signed For Vast Four-State Area

NEW YORK (AP) — A four-state area surrounding Titusville, Pa., where the first United States oil well was brought in, has drawn the attention of petroleum geologists again.

"Quietly and without fanfare," the Humble Oil & Refining Co. reports it has signed oil and gas leases covering more than 600,000 acres in Ohio, West Virginia, New York and Pennsylvania.

The area in the Appalachian basin is believed also to contain untapped natural gas deposits. The northeast and midwest industrial complex means a market "virtually waiting at the wellhead," Humble said.

The company, chief operating affiliate of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), the world's largest oil concern, has set up an exploration office in Pittsburgh. Its main office is in Houston.

"In a way," said Chester W. Couser, Pittsburgh manager, "this is the last major unexplored oil basin in the United States."

He said that despite hundreds of shallow wells, many potential oil reservoirs at deeper levels never have been tested. The Titusville well, drilled 103 years ago, brought oil at only 69 feet.

Humble said it "will explore deeper zones from one to two miles down. Shallow tests also will be made in areas not previously explored."

Explosion Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Burns and other injuries suffered last Thursday in an explosion at Tri-State manufacturing Co. caused the death at Mercy Hospital Wednesday night of Elmer Moore, 31, of Loveland.

'Robbed' Employe Charged With Fraud

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — William McKinney, who told police a bandit slugged him and got away with $5,744 in cash and checks, has been charged with embezzlement by officials of Economy Savings and Loan Co. where he worked.

Police said McKinney had been missing since Saturday when he turned over $1,900 to the company and said he found it under the seat of his car. McKinney told police Jan. 10 he was robbed while enroute to make a night bank deposit.

Conference Scheduled To Maintain Schools

CINCINNATI (AP)—School officials of nearby Lincoln Heights plan a conference Saturday on steps to keep the two city schools open. Voters in a special election Tuesday turned down a proposed 3.5 mill operating levy for the third time.

Charles Powell Jr., school board chairman, said Wednesday some belt-tightening proposals call for increased fees and pay cuts for teachers. School superintendent C. S. Dabney said the tax proposal will likely be put before voters a fourth time at the May primary.

Junior Editors Quiz on LIBERTY

QUESTION: What is written on the tablet held by the Statue of Liberty?

ANSWER: Few are aware of the inscription on the tablet in the Statue of Liberty's left hand; more are familiar with the stirring verse carved on its base; "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, the wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tost, to me; I lift my lamp beside the golden door." The tablet bears the date of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, the day America became the land of freedom described in the verse. Another seldom-seen feature of the statue is the broken chain at its feet, symbolizing the bonds which no longer shackle people who have won their liberty.

The statue stands on a small island in New York harbor, but it belongs to you—and to all Americans. It was a gift to our people from the people of France in 1884. The statue is 151 feet tall and, including its pedestal, rises 305 feet above the water. The arm holding the torch is 42 feet long and the head is so large 40 persons can stand in it and look out the windows A famous sculptor, Frederic Auguste Bartholdi, designed the statue; and Gustave Eiffel, the engineer who built the Eiffel Tower in Paris, made the steel framework. The statue is made of huge sheets of copper hammered over the framework, and the whole thing weighs 450,000 pounds.

FOR YOU TO DO: To know what the Statue of Liberty stands for is more important than to know its size and weight. If you can, attend a ceremony in your Federal District Court in which immigrants to our country become American citizens.

County GOP Unanimous

Atty. McSweeney Backed For 2nd Vote Board Term

Atty. James L. McSweeney of Wellsville was recommended unanimously for appointment to a new four-year term on the Columbiana County Election Board when the County Republican Executive Committee met Wednesday night in Lisbon Village Hall.

Atty. McSweeney's name will be forwarded today to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus, who appoints Election Board members on recommendation of party committees. The certification of McSweeney's name will be made over the signatures of Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem, county chairman, and Frank R. O'Hanlon of East Liverpool, secretary.

Another man had been an unofficial candidate for the recommendation for the Election Board post, but McSweeney's name was the only one presented to the Executive Committee. The other candidate was Samuel B. Webber of East Liverpool, a former city councilman. McSweeney's choice was by acclamation.

The new term begins March 1. It will be McSweeney's second full term. Don R. Gosney of Columbiana previously was recommended by the Democratic Executive Committee for reappointment to the board.

The other members of the board are Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana and Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon.

Twenty - seven of the 31 committee members were present, despite the near-zero weather. Whitacre presided and O'Hanlon acted as secretary.

Three new candidates circulated petitions at the meeting. T. Emerson Smith of Salem, a former member of the Election Board, announced he will be a candidate for county auditor. Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool was circulating a petition for renomination on the GOP ticket. Webber announced he will be a candidate for county commissioner. He also circulated a petition.

County Commissioner Galen Greenisen explained the county's financial plight and discussed the possibility of submitting a levy at the May primaries.

The committee held a general discussion on the 1962 elections, looking forward to a full slate at the primary.

Power Project Bid Is $56,685

EAST PALESTINE — The Fairfield Engineering Co. of Marion was the apparent low bidder for providing coal handling equipment for the municipal power plant when offers were opened Wednesday by the Board of Control.

Fairfield bid $56,685 for the bins, conveyor belts and other equipment for the boilers of the plant as part of a major improvement project.

Other biders were Webster Manufacturing Co. of Tiffin $71,182, and Beaumont - Birch Co. of Philadelphia, $85,350.

The bids were given to Floyd G Browne Associates of Marion, engineering firm which is in charge of the engineering of the project, for study.
